U.S., Mikoyan Agree to Keep Talking

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan have agreed that the United States and the Soviet Union will continue negotiations for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis.

But their lengthy White House conference failed to yield any evidence of progress toward agreement on other critical East-West issues.

The President and Mikoyan met for more than three hours late Thursday. U.S. officials had hoped the meeting would produce evidence of change in Soviet policies on arms control, or other global problems, in the wake of the crisis over Cuba.

In this hope, they were apparently disappointed.

White House sources said that from the U.S. point of view the meeting did not provide any surprises—that Mikoyan's discussion of Soviet policies produced nothing of a new or different character.

Mikoyan, who just spent three weeks in Cuba, told reporters as he left the President's office.

Red China Charge Of 'Provocation' Denied By India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India denied today Red Chinese charges that it engaged in armed provocations by rushing troops to Himalayan borderlands as the deadline approached for a promised Communist withdrawal.

The Chinese said they were watching the situation closely but an authoritative source here said the Indian government had received indications the Communists planned to go through with their withdrawal Saturday, Peking time, as they announced with their self-imposed cease-fire nine days ago. India has not yet accepted Red China's proposals for the withdrawal.

It has been sending reinforcements by land and air into the crucial northeastern sector of the battlefield since the cease-fire went into effect.

India's hand has been strengthened, for the time being at least, by a lessening of pressure in its dispute with Pakistan over Kashmir.

Prime Minister Nehru and President Mohammed Ayub Khan have agreed to negotiate their 15-year dispute but the going may be rough.

The agreement, however, will allow India to breathe easier as it pulls troops away from the Pakistan front.

Hoffa, Old-Time Friend Counsel Fitzgerald, Part

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and George S. Fitzgerald, his legal counsel and friend for 27 years, have parted bitterly in the midst of Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial.

As the prosecution rested its case Thursday—following six weeks of testimony by 29 witnesses and featuring 263 exhibits—the Detroit News said in a copyrighted article that Hoffa fired Fitzgerald, who is from Detroit.

Fitzgerald's firing, the News said, followed a heated exchange last Monday between the men outside the federal courtroom here.

Fitzgerald, under subpoena as a government witness in Hoffa's trial, told the jury on Monday he swapped his personal check for $15,000 to Hoffa in return for a dividend from Test Fleet, a truck

India, Pakistan Agree To Talk About Kashmir

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Under the pressure of the Red Chinese Prime Minister Nehru and Pakistani Prime Minister Ayub Khan have agreed to new negotiations on the 15-year feud over Kashmir and other disputes—but the talks promise to be rough going.

A joint Indian-Pakistan communiqué announcing the talks was issued as Red China charged India with conducting provocative troop movements up to the Himalayan cease-fire line.

The Chinese charge, made on the eve of the Saturday deadline set by Peking for a pullback of its troops, raised prospects of fresh fighting instead of a Chinese retreat.

The prospective Indian-Pakistan negotiations eased India's necessity, at least for the time, of keeping the bulk of her troops on guard against Pakistan during an undeclared border war with China. Already a squadron of American Hercules transports has transferred thousands of Indian troops from Pakistan's borders to the endangered Northeast.

Duncan Sandys, British Commonwealth relations secretary, took the lead in arranging the negotiations when he flew from New Delhi to Rawalpindi, Pakistan.

Nehru consented to the talks un-

Ethel Merman Back in Springs To See Grandson

The "Unsinkable Ethel"—as she appeared Thursday night on the Bob Hope Show—is back in town to visit a new grandson.

Ethel Merman, trumpet-voiced star of Broadway, arrived at the Antlers Hotel Thursday night where she'll stay while visiting her daughter and family, the William L. Gearys, Michael Lee Geary, born Nov. 10, and Barbara Jeanne Geary—who will be two years old on Feb. 18.

Miss Merman, a frequent visitor to Colorado Springs, spent Thursday evening with friends where she viewed her latest television appearance on the Bob Hope Show, an NBC-TV presentation.

She taped the show while making her latest movie, "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

Of rumors that she might forsake the Broadway stage for the movies, Miss Merman said, "That's just for the time being—until some good material comes along again."

Her fans agree it couldn't be too soon.

Woman Reports Attack in Alley By Tall Man

A 28-year-old woman told police early this morning that she was attacked by a tall young man with blond hair while she was walking in an alley in the 200 block of North Wabash Avenue.

Police Detectives Charles Jensen and John Orwig said that the woman told them she was struck in the eye and knocked down by her assailant who then tore at her clothes.

The detectives said the woman told them she had made a phone call from a telephone booth in the 400 block of East Platte Avenue and was walking home at 1 a.m. when the incident occurred.

As she walked in the alley she was approached by the man who forced her farther into the alley where the assault took place. She kicked him and managed to escape and called her husband, the officers said.

She was taken to the Ent Dispensary where she was treated for a cut right eye and released.

The man was described as six feet in height, young, and having blond hair, police said.

500 Sicilians Said Killed by Mafia Gangs

ROME (AP)—A Sicilian member of the Italian Parliament reports that Mafia gangs have slain more than 500 people on the island since 1945.

Socialist Deputy Matteo Gaudioso gave the figure Thursday as the Chamber of Deputies debated a proposal for a parliamentary investigation of the secret organization.

Gaudioso said the Mafia murdered 153 people in Corleone, a town of 16,000 south of Palermo. All parties voiced support for the investigation. A vote is expected soon.

Many Italian governments have tried in vain to destroy the Mafia.

Atom-Blasted Harbors Urged By Dr. Teller

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States could be using nuclear explosions to blast out harbors and canals at tremendous savings if it were not for political timidity and lack of imagination and enterprise, says Dr. Edward Teller.

Teller, often called the father of the H-bomb, plugged for atomic energy's useful and constructive uses at a news conference here at the American Nuclear Society meeting.

He said the cost of large earth moving projects would be one-tenth to one-twentieth as expensive by nuclear means.

Swift, Pulverizing Stroke Was Set For Cuba Action

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States might have been left with few readily maneuverable Army and Marine divisions to deal with other crises if it had launched an invasion of Cuba.

Perhaps for that reason, it was evident U.S. military chiefs counted on a swift, pulverizing stroke to knock out Fidel Castro's forces and Soviet-managed missile bases.

The Defense Department disclosed Thursday that more than 100,000 troops in the Strategic Army Corps had been alerted for possible use against Cuba in the recent crisis.

This represented five of the eight divisions in STRAC, the force maintained by the Army in the United States as a reserve to be rushed overseas in event of emergencies.

Two of the five divisions earmarked for the Cuban operation were the only paratroop outfits in the Army. The 82nd Airborne and the 101st Airborne Divisions normally would be the first to go in any hurry-up "fire brigade" operation.

Over-all, the Army has 16 divisions. In addition to the eight in the United States, five are pinned down in West Germany facing the iron curtain, two are in South Korea confronting the Communists in North Korea and one division is split between Hawaii and Okinawa.

The Pentagon's roundup of Military actions in the Cuban crisis indicated that about 12,000 Marines—nearly the equivalent of a full division—were committed to the Cuban operation.

They were sent in to reinforce the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo or were embarked with the Atlantic Fleet preparatory to landings or helicopter-borne attack on Cuba.

These Marines came from two of the corps' three divisions—the 2nd at Camp Lejeune, N.C., and the 1st based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

More than 1,700 of the roughly 7,000 Marines now holding the

Atom-Powered Rocket Seen In Five Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States hopes to flight test its first nuclear-powered rocket in about five years—as a step toward making it ready to carry men through space in the 1970s, Atomic Energy Commission experts said today.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the AEC, said there would be another test Friday of the Kiwi reactor in the long development program at the test station in Nevada.

The Polaris submarine To Be Christened

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The Polaris missile submarine Henry Clay will be christened today by a great-granddaughter of the American statesman.

Mrs. Green B. Gibson of Lexington, Ky., will christen the submarine. Her sister, Miss Henrietta Clay, also of Lexington, will serve as maid of honor.

They are two of the 15 living direct descendants of Henry Clay. A native of Virginia, Clay established his legal and political career in Lexington. He served as speaker of the House of Representatives for many years and won fame for his compromises designed to head off the Civil War.

NEW OFFICERS—The Colorado Hereford Association chose new officers during its annual meeting and banquet Thursday night. This meeting was held as a part of the Mid-Winter Convention of the Colorado Cattlemen's Association.

Word-Battle About European Common Market Erupts at Cattlemen's Meeting

A sharp verbal battle erupted during a marketing forum of the Colorado Cattlemen's Association Thursday.

Rep. J. Edgar Chenoweth blasted the Common Market, charging its effect upon the American cattle industry would result in increased imports and decreased exports. He termed this disastrous for the cattlemen represented at the session.

Chenoweth invited questions from the floor—with Gene Cervi, publisher of the strongly Democratic Cervi's Journal, quick to respond.

Cervi opened his remarks on a calm congratulatory note for Chenoweth's recent success at the polls, then slid quietly into full agreement with the GOP congressman who had earlier stated he was not an authority on the Common Market.

From this point, verbal shots were traded that would do justice to gun duels of the Old West.

There will be a shortage of beef within the next ten years as a result of a present world population explosion.

To the complete enjoyment of the fully attentive audience, Chenoweth ended the battle with the remark that Cervi had only proven, "neither of us is an authority on the Common Market."

Nevertheless, Chenoweth said during his address that he expected to return to the state capital in January.

Teamsters Strike Against Two Cleveland Papers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland's two major daily newspapers—the morning Plain Dealer and the afternoon Press & News—ceased publication today after a surprise Teamsters' Union strike against them.

The strike was called Thursday night by Teamsters Local 473 as the climax of a contract dispute with the newspapers. Picket lines were strung around the buildings of both publishing firms.

The Plain Dealer was published, but the paper went undelivered. A reduced run of 12,000 papers was sold in the lobby of the building. No further publication is planned until the strike is settled.

The Press & News had felt there was a possibility of publishing today.

But in mid-morning, editor Louis B. Seltzer said: "We are not going to attempt to publish. We don't want to risk injury to any human being that might occur or cause a civic disturbance. A good many of our employees reported to work."

Officials of both newspapers indicated efforts were being made to set up further negotiating sessions with the union through the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Thomas V. H. Vail, vice president of the Forest City Publishing Co., publisher of the Plain Dealer, notified Plain Dealer employees that publication of the newspaper would be discontinued until the strike is settled.

AN ELECTRICIANS STRIKE THIS MORNING AGAINST THE UTAH MINING AND CONSTRUCTION COMPANY, HALTED WORK AT THE NORTH AMERICAN AIR DEFENSE COMMAND'S COMBAT OPERATIONS CENTER WITHIN CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN.

Pickets from Local No. 113, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, lined the access roads to the entrance of the underground center this morning, keeping workers away from the project.

The electricians claim the Utah company has violated the Davis-Bacon Act, a law which requires contractors to pay rates approved by the Department of Labor to each craft and skilled laborer.

An Army engineer at Ft. Carson said the company had hired laborers to do work at the project which the electricians claimed was in their jurisdiction.

Federal mediation representatives met late this morning with company and union officials at Carpenters Hall in an effort to halt the strike.

Excavation of the huge $66 million underground center has been virtually completed. However, the Utah company will work another year on refinements and modifications to the system.

This and other strikes have halted work progress, the target date for completion of the major U.S. defense installations remains 1963.

Arrest of Two Soldiers Clears Up Car Prowls

Police were rapidly clearing up a series of Westside car strips and prowls this morning with the arrest of two Ft. Carson soldiers.

During the early part of the week, approximately 15 car strips and prowls were reported to authorities with the stolen objects ranging from tires and spotlights to clothing and tools taken from the interiors of the vehicles.

George Edward Pless, 20, and Bradley Gene Alexander, both of Ft. Carson were arrested by Detectives Robert Murphy and Lewis Heinz at 447 Glen View Ct., Thursday, and both men admitted committing a number of the thefts.

Authorities believe the remainder of the thefts will be cleared up as the two soldiers are questioned.

Authorities said that in addition to a number of stolen items found on the soldier's cars, more of the loot has been recovered from the Glen View address, home of Pless.

A special presidential committee set up under the Taft-Hartley law scheduled its first meeting today to look into the months-long contract squabble.

The committee planned first to study written reports it requested from both management and labor. Its chairman, Prof. Arthur M. Ross, of the University of California Industrial Relations Institute, said he also wants to hold oral hearings.

Picket lines from Honolulu to Cape Canaveral, Fla., quickly dissolved Thursday as strikers ended their walkout at the request of President Kennedy.

A day earlier he had invoked the Taft-Hartley law, clearing the way for a possible injunction against further immediate strikes. Lockheed claimed the strike was relatively ineffective. The union on the other hand said 97 per cent of 55,000 possible union and non-union employees stayed out of work halting vital missile and plane projects.

Secretary of Labor Z. Willard Wirtz said in Los Angeles he was satisfied with the prompt action of the IAM in withdrawing pickets around the nation.

The union ordered its members back to work, but left little doubt it expects continued trouble in negotiations over the central issue—the union shop proposal.

The presidential committee must report its findings to President Kennedy by Monday. Then the President will decide whether to seek a federal court injunction ordering the workers to stay on their jobs for an 80-day "cooling-off" period.

An earlier presidential committee in the six-month-long aerospace dispute recommended the issue be put to a vote by all the firms in the field.

North American Aviation, General Dynamics and Ryan Aircraft went along, and their employees failed to give the workers majority necessary, though they did give a

Pope Recovering From Battle With Anemia

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII is making a good recovery, with medical treatment "obtaining the hoped for results" in his battle against anemia, a Vatican communiqué said today.

The 81-year-old pontiff got out of his sick bed briefly again this morning and "occupied himself with some problems regarding the government of the Church, giving the relative dispositions," the statement added.

It was the second time he had been able to get up since he was stricken Tuesday.

Vatican sources said the Pope's doctor was concerned, however, that he was rushing things in his determination to get back to work.

"As soon as he feels a bit better, he wants to get out of bed," Dr. Antonio Gasbarrini was quoted as saying. "It is difficult to keep him there."

There were widespread—but unconfirmed—reports the Pope has a stomach ulcer.

Dr. Gasbarrini was quoted by the Milan paper Il Giorno as denying "speculation the Pope suffers from cancer of the prostate."

Dr. Gasbarrini, 80, was quoted as explaining about the pontiff's condition:

"Certainly he is prostatic. Everybody is at his age, including me. But there is absolutely no cancer."

Il Giorno also said Gasbarrini denied that surgery was contemplated.

Lockheed Workers Return To Work After Brief Strike

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and its aerospace workers today went back to work—and back to the conference table—after a brief strike was ended at least temporarily.

Government intervention halted picketing after two days. But union leaders vow they'll strike again if demands for a union shop vote aren't met.

The company says it won't weaken its firm stand against the vote.

A special presidential committee set up under the Taft-Hartley law scheduled its first meeting today to look into the months-long contract squabble.

The committee planned first to study written reports it requested from both management and labor. Its chairman, Prof. Arthur M. Ross, of the University of California Industrial Relations Institute, said he also wants to hold oral hearings.

Colorado Eligible For Aged Federal Aid

DENVER (UPI)—Guy R. Justis, director of the State Welfare Department, told a legislative subcommittee here Colorado was eligible for $10 million in federal aid for old age medical and hospital programs.

The federal government will provide matching funds for such programs, Justis said. Colorado has allocated slightly more than $10 million to this purpose.

An additional $5,000 Colorado senior citizens could be assisted by the federal funds, Justis said. The state now helps about 50,000, he said.

Dr. John Holden, director of the Department of Agriculture graduation school, said this week, that White, now a justice with the U.S. Supreme Court, tripled his reading and day care center for 150 children, speed to 4,000 words per minute during a reading course at the school.

Hospital Change May Cost Close To $2 Million

PUEBLO (UPI)—Changing Colorado State Hospital from a custodial home to an intensive treatment center will cost an additional $1,814,386 during the current fiscal year, according to Superintendent Willis Bower.

Bower made the statement with his budget request for $17,207,116 here to visiting members of the Legislature's Joint Budget Committee. Top item on the request was $657,329 for 154 additional employees.

A proposed construction and renovation program for the State Hospital totaled $9.4 million. Top items were $2.75 million for a medical-surgical building and $1.2 million for equipment and $2,885,000 for renovation and modernizing existing buildings.

Other items included $180,000 for demolition of existing unsafe buildings, $386,000 for gymnasium, swimming pool and other recreational facilities, $46,000 for new suite school, said this week, that lighting around the maximum security section $583,000 for a school, $124,000 for a new ward house, and $30,000 for modernizing utility lines.

Plutonium Is Used For Power Reactor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Plutonium, a man-made byproduct of uranium, has been used successfully for the first time as a fuel for a power-producing nuclear reactor.

The use of plutonium as a fuel would multiply the nation's atomic reserves.

This man-made substance has fueled test reactors since August 1958 but until this week only fissionable uranium itself had been used in power reactors.

This was accomplished at the AEC's national reactor testing station west of Idaho Falls, Idaho, when an experimental breeder reactor, fed with 63 pounds of plutonium, achieved a self-sustaining chain reaction.

Atomic officials declined to speculate on how the new use of plutonium would affect uranium mining in western states. It was noted, however, uranium would still be needed even if plutonium achieved widespread usage as a nuclear fuel. One official said it was too early to predict that even that would eventually happen.

Shumate, Neighbor Will Bury Hatchet

DENVER (UPI)—Denver Chief of Detectives James Shumate and his neighbor apparently have decided to bury the hatchet.

Shumate has dropped a $10,000 lawsuit charging Oliver O. Twiss, 84, with subjecting him to "ridicule, embarrassment and contempt." And Twiss has promised to stop writing letters to Shumate's bosses and has apologized.

The two met in the office of Shumate's boss, Safety Manager John Schooley, here and Twiss presented a letter of apology.

Twiss had complained mostly about a set of floodlights in Shumate's backyard. He lives immediately behind Shumate.

Dead Girl in Frisco Is Declared Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—In about three several minutes the girl's purse police found a fore dropping, apparently in ink list of names—Kevin, Dean, Irene, Jeanette—names she was considering for her first-born child, expected in a month.

There was also a cheerful letter to a friend. She and her husband, she wrote, celebrated their first wedding anniversary 10 days ago. For Christmas "I'm giving him a baby I hope he likes it."

The purse was beside the broken body of Zaida Lee Moses, 17, 2,200-acre International Peace in shrubbery 35 feet below an overpass in San Francisco. Police said dust streaks on the overpass railing indicated she had States and Canada.

Free Enterprise Group Honors Businessman

NEW YORK (AP) — A Fort Collins, Colo., businessman-inventor was among eight men and two women acclaimed by the Free Enterprise Awards Association here and named to receive "American Success Story" awards.

The Coloradoan is J. Donovan Forney, 57, founder-owner of Forney Industries, Inc.

He and the others were honored for their achievement of success "despite adversity, through industry, sacrifice and ethics, symbolizing the success possible under our free enterprise system."

All will receive their awards at ceremonies Dec. 11.

The association is a non-profit, non-political agency set up to promote American democracy and its free enterprise system.

Forney put himself through college, working at odd jobs. He invented a soldering tool and patented models for food. His diversified industrial firm has sales in the multi-millions.

Other winners were: Walter J. Tuohy of Cleveland, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway subsidiaries.

John D. MacArthur, 65, owner of Bankers Life & Casualty Co. of Chicago.

Mrs. Mae Bonnell Sauls of Atlanta, Ga., president of the William L. Bonnell Co., of Newman, Ga.

Lilburn S. Barksdale, 54, Los Angeles, owner of Barksdale Vales International Manufacturing Corp.

Mrs. Zella Ritz-Waller, 55, Elmhurst, Ill., president of King Bee Manufacturing Co., and Ritz Products, Inc.

Dudley D. Sherman, 68, Chicago, president of National Chemical and Mfg. Co.

Harold F. Coffey, 64, Lenoir, N. C., president of Kent-Coffey Mfg. Co., Union Mirror Co., Nu-woods, Inc., and Furniture Manufacturers, Inc.

Dr. Charles Bradley, 55, Hamden, Conn., president, founder and owner of Bradley Semi-conductor Corp., of New Haven, Conn.

James R. Riley, 66, Worthington, Ohio, president of Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., Columbus, Ohio.

Princeton Press Does Not Seek To Make Profit

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Herbert S. Bailey runs a corporation here that does an annual business of $1.5 million. His guiding principle is: Never make a profit.

Bailey is director of the Princeton University Press, and says his job is to serve the academic world by publishing scholarly books—regardless of how they sell.

He is especially proud of two of his publishing house's accomplishments:

1. The publishing in 1922 of a volume called "The Meaning of Relativity," by a little-known mathematician named Albert Einstein.
2. The publishing in 1951 of a book, "The Pylus Tablets," which no man on earth could read because it was the transcription of an unknown language found on a clay tablet in Greek ruins. It was published in the hope that some scholar might decipher it. Three years later an Englishman did just that, providing historians with a major breakthrough in the study of the Minoan civilization in Crete.

Solons Call on State Health Department

DENVER (UPI) — Twelve Colorado legislators called on the State Health Department to expand its services this week but refused to recommend additional funds for the work.

The legislative committee urged the department to increase inspection of migratory work camps, continue to withhold workers from inadequate housing, expand registration of migrant crew leaders and recommended more schools for the workers' children and more careful allocation of workers coming into the state.

State Sen. Charles Bennett, D-Denver, said it was up to the department to prove its need for more funds. Harold Lawson, a research analyst for the Legislative Council, said the department had not requested additional personnel.

ROBINHOODS SENTENCED
PISA, ITALY (AP) — Five men were given jail sentences from 10 months to two and a half years here for hijacking a smuggler.

The court was told they masqueraded as customs police, stopped a smuggler's car that had crossed into Italy from Switzerland, and "confiscated" $28,000 worth of gold bars hidden in the car.

CAPITAL GAINS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Howard and Betty Glenn of Fort Morgan, Colo., will pay long term capital gains on $900,000 they received for the sale of oil and gas interests on a piece of land they own. A U.S. tax court overruled a lower court decision which said the Glens would have to pay taxes at the ordinary rate. They sold the rights to Jamar Oil Co. in 1955.
Paul's will present their annual Christmas program, under the direction of Mrs. Sally Morris, at 7 p.m. Dec. 16. All classes from kindergarten thru high school will participate.
A Watch Night Communion service will be held at 11:20 p.m. Dec. 31 at the church. The entire community is invited to participate.

Mexico Is Asked To Build School In New Mexico
ESPAÑOLA, N.M. (UPI) — A rural school principal and state senator has revealed here that a Mexican government official is seriously considering his request that Mexico build a school for an impoverished Spanish-speaking village in northern New Mexico.
State Sen. Albert Amador of Rio Arriba County, a Democrat representing one of New Mexico's most depressed areas, said the chief architect for the Mexican government school - building program has promised to send an architect to the village of Ojo Caliente to study the feasibility of such a school, financed by Mexico.
Amador said he proposed this "reversal of the Alliance for Progress in a small way" because Rio Arriba County cannot legally float bonds to finance an elementary school for Ojo Caliente. Hope for federal aid died, Amador said, when President Kennedy's school construction bill was defeated during the 1962 session of Congress.
Amador is principal of the high school at Ojo Caliente, a village of about 200 residents located 30 miles north of the county seat at Espanola, and about 55 miles from the state capital at Santa Fe.
Ninety per cent of the population in the Ojo Caliente area is Spanish-speaking, Amador said, and their economic condition is very bad. Seventy nine per cent of the surrounding land is owned by the state or federal government, and produces little local income.
Amador said the Mexican architect, Pedro Ramirez Vasquez, replied to his petition: "Personally, I have great hope that it (the school project) will be favorably considered; nevertheless, I will only be able to affirm this definitely at the moment when I am authorized to do so."
Amador said Vasquez promised to send an architect to find out what kind of buildings material is available in the Ojo Caliente area, what local labor would be available, and what kind of building would be best for the climate. Vasquez said the architect's report and Amador's petition would be forwarded to the proper Mexican authorities for consideration.
Amador told Vasquez that "the workers who would come to build the building would be considered the Mexican Peace Corps."

26 Small VA Offices Slated to Be Closed
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration will close state and at the 169 VA hospitals, the spokesman said.
The offices to be closed include Long Beach, San Bernardino, Oakland and Sacramento, Calif., and Colorado Springs, Colo.
The nine to be kept open either have medical facilities which continue to be needed or render some other special service which warrants their being kept open, the spokesman said.

State Hunter Found Guilty in Shooting
By United Press International
A Colorado hunter was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and careless hunting at Glenwood Springs Wednesday in the Oct. 22 death of a Littleton man.
A six-man jury found William H. Sherman, 20, of Hugo guilty, and Justice of the Peace Robert Young sentenced him to a year in jail on the manslaughter charge and six months on the careless hunting charge.
Emil D. Jacobson was killed in Triangle Park northwest of Glenwood Springs.
A Golden man was charged with careless hunting at Gunnison on Wednesday. The charges were filed against William Obrey, 35, of Golden, in the death of Timothy R. Chism, 21, of Fresno, Calif.
Chism was killed Monday while stalking a deer about 15 miles west of Gunnison. A coroner's jury ruled the death resulted from Obrey's carelessness.
Fax hunting is no longer solely the sport of kings and country gentlemen. England's Hampshire Hunt has appointed four Car Masters to cope with the increasing numbers of motorists who tag along. Many of England's 200 hunt clubs encourage the support of the nonriding public, and two of the clubs have more than 5,000 members each.

Swift, Pulverizing Stroke Was Set For Cuba Action

Guantanamo perimeter in Cuba are expected to be pulled out soon and sent back to California.

The 3rd Marine Division is positioned on Okinawa, with an 1,800-man battalion landing team from that outfit aboard ships of the 7th Fleet cruising Far Eastern waters.

A 10-page Pentagon summary showed that at least 213,000 Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force fighting men either were on special alert or in position to strike at Cuba and defend the southeastern United States.

About 85,000 of these were aboard 183 Navy warships that blockaded Cuba and were set to their missiles, guns and jets against Cuba if the order were given.

The 85,000-ton nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise and the 75,000-ton carrier Independence, with escorting ships, stood by ready to send off their more than 200 Navy and Marine planes in defense of Guantanamo.

Another 6,000 or so Air Force pilots and ground crewmen manned early 1,000 rocket-and-cannon armed jet fighters and interceptors in Florida, poised to take on Cuba's Soviet-made jet fighters or bombers and to blast Cuban military positions in support of any U.S. landings.

An undisclosed number of Navy and Marine fighters, fighter-bombers and dive bombers were posted at crowded military airfields in Florida for the same purpose.

The Defense Department's report said the Air Force's Strategic Air Command mounted a "massive airborne alert" of many of its 600 B-52 heavy jet bombers. The rest of the B-52s and about 1,000 B-47 bombers were on their runways, primed to take off combat-loaded within 15 minutes after warnings.

The crews of 144 U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles also were on special alert.

About 126,000 air crewmen, missilemen, mechanics and others in SAC pitched in on this "round-the-clock operation."

The main purpose of the SAC alert was to make certain any surprise missile strike against this country would not catch U.S. ICBMs unready to fire and American long-range nuclear bombers on the ground before they could start for their enemy targets.

But it was disclosed for the first time that SAC bombers joined Navy patrol planes in keeping a watch on the 2,000 ships which were in the Atlantic during the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

Medalion Owner Answers Planning Group's Charges

John Gilles, owner of the Medalion Apartment-Hotel, appeared before the City Planning Commission Thursday to answer objections that he is in violation of the city zoning laws.

The commission earlier this month authorized City Building Inspector Walter Kuennig to start legal proceedings against the Medalion owner for four alleged violations.

In answer to a charge that the building had not been approved, Gilles said that sign company officials obtained a building permit from the building inspector's office to erect the signs.

In answer to a charge that he had not provided adequate off-street parking, Gilles stated that work had been started to acquire the necessary land and the project is still proceeding toward completion.

The commission had also objected to use of a restaurant and bar in the building for public use. The facilities were originally authorized only as an accessory use of the apartment-hotel.

Another objection was made against the use of a portion of the building for a real estate office.

The commission Thursday requested Gilles to apply for the necessary permission to regularize the uses now existing in the building that are not in conformity with the zoning laws.

Gilles said he plans to apply for a zone change of the property from the present R-5 (multi-family residential) to C-5 (intermediate business).

Print Missing
From Storage Room
A 16 by 20-inch glassed print of a quarter horse head, valued at $20, is reported missing from a storage room at 2602 1/2 Colorado Ave.

Police said the print is owned to Benjamin T. Roberts, 721 E. Platte Ave.

The room was forcibly entered sometime between Saturday and Thursday and the picture stolen, according to the report received by Police Officer Kenneth C. Berry.

Word-Battle on Common Market Erupts at Meet

pected free trade between all nations of the free world to be an ultimate fact, warning "It is obvious we cannot compete, price wise, with others of the world."

He said, "There will be some casualties" and indicated he believed the states of the West would be most effected. He said that when the Trade Expansion Act was adopted, even its sponsors agreed it would mean the destruction of some local industries.

The Common Market, Chenoweth stated, would mean trade without benefit of tariffs for all member nations. In conjunction with this, the alliance nations would establish tariffs for all non-member nations.

We warned that this nation would be no exception, saying, "Don't think that the Marshall Plan or our foreign aid to some of these countries will influence their decision in this matter."

The congressman said he was no "free trader" himself and that he had fought against reduction in tariffs on the basis of damage he said this would do to the mining and cattle industry of his state. Nevertheless, he called free trade a trend — a trend backed by the Kennedy Administration.

The marketing forum Thursday preceded the actual opening of the joint convention of the CCA and Colorado Hereford Association.

Quality of beef produced was the prime topic with cattlemen questioning members of a panel and other speakers on ways they could make their beef more desirable.

The dual grading system was explored, with apparent agreement reached that a system of equitable grading had not yet been reached.

Dual grading determines cut-up value of a carcass as well as quality, Kenneth Monfort of Monfort Pack Company said. He said the plan, inaugurated last summer, was not in wide use however.

Others in the firing line Thursday were representatives of the retail packers, packers, central markets and feeders.

These appeared on a panel with questions tossed at them from the producers.

"C. M. Harmon, president of the Colorado Feeder's Association, said, "We are yearling feeders." He said the majority of feeder cattle was brought in from southern states. When asked "What can we do to raise cattle we can sell here in the state?" Harmon replied, "Make them tighter — eliminate loose flesh."

The demand for feeder cattle is great, Harmon said, and upheld the practice of packer feeding by saying, "We can't supply them with enough."

Cattlemen have fought this practice, charging unfair competition and market monopoly. Harmon also said, "We are operating in confusion to a point," in attacking a practice of producing beef that may appear well in a show ring.

"We have to deal in a product that will produce a profit," he stated, adding, "The animal we want will not win too many grand championships." He said feeders and packers were not interested in the "outside wrapper" and that a pampered animal does not have a chance to develop muscle.

Methods of selling were explored, with E. S. Van Berg, president of the Colorado Livestock Auction Association, supporting competitive markets.

Van Berg said contract buying can be a "hit or miss" method. He stated, "The producer can't be positive he has gotten full market value unless he goes to a competitive market."

Other issues involving the cattle industry were discussed in sessions in the Acacia Hotel this morning.

Judging of some of the state's finest Hereford bulls will get underway this afternoon at Pikes Peak Pavilion, with these bulls slated to be sold Saturday.

Four Applications
For County
Trustee Post
Weldon Tarter, chairman of the County Republican Committee, announced today that four applications have been received to date for the public trustee post in El Paso County to be filled in April.

Applicants for the $5000 per year job are Mrs. Audrey Brown, 531 N. Institute St., precinct committee; Mrs. Mary Ann Bissell, 910 N. Meade Ave., a candidate for county clerk who lost to Mrs. Harriet Beals in the November election.

Walter Kean, 2132 N. Tejon St., accountant, and Mrs. Betty Higby, state vice-chairman of the Republican state central committee and wife of District Attorney Don W. Higby.

Tarter said the appointment will be made by Gov.-elect John Love and probably on the basis of the recommendation of the central committee where the appointment is to be made.

Mrs. Sue McClasky has been the county public trustee since appointed by Gov. Stephen McNichols in 1955 and will complete the current term which runs to April.

There are nine counties in the state which have a public trustee post to be filled every two years. In addition to El Paso County, they are Arapahoe, Boulder, Jefferson, Weld, Larimer, Pueblo, Adams and Las Animas.

In other counties, the duties of public trustee are performed by the county treasurer. The Denver public trustee is appointed by the mayor of that city.

U.S., Mikoyan Are Agreed to Continue Talks

shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday night.

"We had an exchange of views with the President on questions of interest to both our countries, chiefly about Cuba. As a result of this conversation, we agreed to issue certain instructions to our representatives in New York — see to our negotiators, and the President will instruct his negotiators to continue negotiations to finally settle the Cuban question."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the two men had agreed "that, as a follow-up of this meeting, the conversations would continue in New York between Ambassador Stevenson, Mr. McCloy and Mr. Kuznetsov."

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. McCloy have been negotiating with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov for several weeks on specific problems involved in easing the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over the installation of Soviet offensive missiles in Cuba.

While no details of the conversation were made public, Kennedy presumably emphasized to Mikoyan two main points about the U.S. attitude toward Cuba.

1. That until some kind of an end to the spot inspection is provided, the United States will continue aerial surveillance over the island.

2. That even though Soviet missiles have been removed, the United States strongly objects to any use of Cuba as a military base by the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union still has thousands of military technicians and troops in Cuba and a number of short-range missile bases, including 24 anti-aircraft missile installations, which Kennedy would like to have dismantled.

Whether the negotiations will cover such points as these was not disclosed by officials. If there is to be a final settlement of the Cuban crisis, however, the continuing presence of Soviet forces in Cuba—as distinguished from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Soviet-armed Cuban forces—would seem to be an important issue to be resolved.

Mikoyan was scheduled to have lunch with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other officials at the State Department today and dine tonight with Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, who recently visited the Soviet Union. Mikoyan is due to leave Saturday for Moscow.

The White House conference was a small gathering. On the U.S. side, in addition to Kennedy, were Rusk and Llewellyn Thompson, an administration adviser on Soviet affairs who recently completed several years as U.S. ambassador to Moscow. Mikoyan was accompanied by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. Each side had two interpreters present. Mikoyan spoke in Russian.

U.S. officials said Cuba was the dominant subject of the conference, but they described the discussion as wide-ranging. On specific points, they said there was a passing reference to the situation in the Southeast Asian country of Laos, some talk of disarmament, including nuclear testing, but no talk at all of Berlin.

While Kennedy had planned to deal with Cuba as the central issue of the meeting, he was also reported to believe that the session was a good opportunity for diplomatic probing about the possibility of a breakthrough on deadlocked issues, such as nuclear testing.

He apparently felt that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev wants to work toward an improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations, Mikoyan might throw out some hints to that effect.

The emphasis which White House sources placed on the lack of anything new in Mikoyan's presentation made clear that this had not happened.

Inspection has also proved so far to be the insoluble obstacle for a final settlement of the Cuban crisis, even though Khrushchev committed himself to inspection procedures at the time he agreed to withdraw "offensive weapons" from Cuba.

So far as American officials know, Khrushchev failed to fulfill his commitment because Castro refused to cooperate.

The major threat of the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba ended early this month when Khrushchev pulled out 42 big missiles and later promised to withdraw within 30 days about 30 IL-28 jet bombers.

Soviet negotiators in New York are also reported to have told U.S. representatives that Soviet troops would be taken out of Cuba in the immediate future. Dismantling of the anti-aircraft and other short-range missile bases, understood to be under Soviet control, would restore the Cuban situation to about what it was earlier this year before the Soviet military build-up was begun there.

Blinky the Clown Receives Plaque For Safety Work

Blinky the Clown has been commended by the Colorado Springs Police Department for his many years of service in promoting traffic safety in the Pikes Peak Region.

A plaque was given him by Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick during a meeting of military and civilian law enforcement officials.

"This commendation has been long overdue for a citizen who has given so much of his time to promote traffic safety," McKissick said.

This assistance by Blinky the Clown, "alias Russell Scott," started about nine years ago when McKissick was working in the police traffic bureau.

Since that time, Blinky the Clown has gone to the various schools with traffic officials and made many other public appearances to help promote traffic safety. Members of the State Patrol and sheriff's office have also been involved in this continuing traffic safety program.

The chief said Blinky the Clown also reaches pre-school age children and their parents on his television show.

"The Colorado Springs Police Department is certainly grateful to him for the many, many hours he has donated to the cause of traffic safety."

This plaque of commendation is but a small token of how we in the police department feel about his efforts. Chief McKissick said. "The commendation is long overdue."

The missing articles were described as a black bowling ball, shoes and a green and white bag. The movie camera was enclosed in a red leather case.

City Planners To Hold Hearing On Zone Request

The City Planning Commission has agreed to hear in January a proposal to re-zone the east side of the 300 block of North Meade Avenue to C-5H (intermediate business, high-rise).

The west side of the 300 block of North Union Boulevard was changed in June to C-5H at the request of Security Savings and Loan Assn., which plans to construct offices on the site.

The new request would extend the proposed development to include the full block — square area Dietz Lusk Jr., who represented the developers at a special commission meeting Thursday, told members that altho Security Savings does not plan to extend its building to the western half of the block it would exercise control over the development of the entire area.

Lusk said that the development plan, if approved by the commission, would mean an orderly "integrated" development of the entire block.

The original zone change was granted in June by the commission to establish a "buffer" zone between the commercial Knob Hill developments to the east and the residential area to the west. Commission members were divided in their opinion as to whether the buffer zone should stop, but agreed to set a public hearing on the matter in January.

In other action Thursday, the commission agreed to set a hearing in January on the proposed construction of a 12-story building on the northwest corner of Platte Avenue and Tejer Street — the site of the El Paso Club.

Hearings will also be held in January on a request to rezone property on South Wadsworth Avenue between Vermijo and Cucharas Streets to R-3 (two-family residential).

The commission referred to the board of adjustment a request by Olga Pratt for a conditional use of the property at 824 W. Kiowa St. to permit construction of a 50-bed nursing home.

The commission agreed to reconsider a request rezoning of the west side of the 1200 block of North Nevada Avenue from R-3 to R-4 (eight-family residential).

An earlier request to zone the area R-5 (multi-family residential) was disapproved.

Today's Weather

(Report furnished by R. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field on 5:30 a.m. today)

The severe Atlantic storm that has plagued the boating interests over a vast stretch of the ocean between the mainland and Bermuda down to the Bahamas this past week was again drifting slowly toward the United States shoreline.

Located 500 miles east of Brunswick, Ga., it was moving to the west at five miles an hour. Gale warnings remained displayed from the Virginia Capes to Savannah, Ga.

The storm circulation was causing clouds along the south coast along Atlantic and Gulf Coast along with rain and drizzle.

Locally heavy rain struck Brunswick where an inch and one quarter poured down in the past six hours.

To the north, the huge dome of the high pressure over the northeast states continued to hold as it has for an extended period now.

The western half of the nation was experiencing a variety of weather. Lightening flashed across the southern New Mexico skies as a few thundershowers erupted while dense fog and drizzle blanketed the west central Plains region with heavy over-cast northward thru the upper Midwest.

In the far Northwest, a flow of moist Pacific air produced scattered light rains and showers along the north Pacific coastline which turned to snow in north-eastern Washington.

The mercury sank well below freezing under clear skies in the Central Plateau and Rockies and readings were in the chilly 40s and 50s along the Pacific coast and the desert southwest.

An excellent example of drainage effect of the slopes of the Rockies was noted in Montana where at Bozeman, it was calm at 10 degrees while just a few miles to the east at Livingston, it was 30 degrees and it was blowing at a steady 30 miles an hour.

Submarine Sailors Make Many Scottish Friends

By TOM A. CULLEN

HOLY LOCH, Scotland (NEA) — One scarcely notices that the Holy Loch, Scotland, is a small town in such places as Wess-baden and Chateaufort, the Navy doesn't own a single building in Holy Loch. The only reminders of the live apart from the local population, the Navy urges the submariners and their families to "muck in" with the Scots, to use the local expression. American children 20 to the local schools, wearing the same navy-blue blazers and "beanie" caps as their Scottish friends. On Saturday nights the Americans line up for the one movie house in the Holy Loch area, and on Sundays they attend services at the High Kirk in Dumoon, or at St. Ninian's.

Navy wives are encouraged to do their shopping locally. The nearest post exchange is at Preswick airport, 40 miles away. The Navy will authorize treatment in a British hospital when it is required but the Navy reimburses the British government for such treatment. It will not allow its personnel to sponge on Britain's free national health service. After 18 months the invisibility policy is beginning to pay dividends. The local inhabitants have developed a genuine affection for and loyalty to their American guests. For example, when the ban-bomb crowd descended upon Holy Loch this summer they were treated with nothing but contempt by the townspeople. At present Submarine Squadron 14 here consists of seven Polaris submarines. There will be 10 by the end of 1962. Each submarine is equipped with 16 missiles with an effective range up to 1,500 nautical miles. Polaris A-3, now being tested at Cape Canaveral, will extend this range to 2,500 nautical miles. Submarines spend two months on deterrent patrol, then one month in the depot here. Each submarine has two crews, known as Blue and Gold, of about 130 men and officers each. The crews alternate, one taking leave and refresher training while the other is on patrol. The arrival of the submarine squadron was viewed with some misgivings here because their presence made Holy Loch a prime target. But these misgivings have since been dissipated. "In a population of 9,000 there are perhaps five people who are actively loosed to the submarines being based here," says J. W. Anderson, the town clerk. Helping to melt the opposition have been the off-duty activities of the U.S. bluejackets. The on-gine room gang of the Proteus, for example, recently went shopping for pink ballet slippers. Six pairs went as gifts to a local orphanage, for girls who would have been unable to take dancing lessons without them. And the 140 men attached to the floating drydock here have "adopted" homeless Anne Burghs of Greenock. They chip in $123 a month for a trust fund to buy Anne clothes and pay for her education. The 1,250 officers and enlisted men stationed here appear to be a hand-picked group. And before leaving the U.S., they and their dependents were given a thorough orientation on what to expect and how to behave. Wives trying to make up their minds whether to join their husbands at Holy Loch are urged to ask themselves such questions as:

"How could I help my husband by going with him to Scotland?" "Could I adapt myself to a way of life which would require additional time for such things as keeping fires, washing and drying clothes, having tea with neighbors?" "Could I accept a house without central heating and some of the other conveniences of life?"

Typical "Do's and Don'ts" which the submariners and their families are asked to observe include:

"Do not refer to persons from Scotland as 'Scots'. They are Scots."

"Though the kilt may look like a skirt to you, don't say so. You will find that the kilt-clad soldier is usually a he-man and resents this forcibly."

"Always stand when the British anthem is played."

"Watch your language. The word 'bloody' is one of their most uncouth expressions."

"In a pub don't barge in and spread yourself all over the place. If there's a dart game going on wait until you are asked to play."

By observing these and other small courtesies the Americans, despite some provocation, have made themselves popular here. The provocation has come entirely from the ban-bomb crowd, none of whom are locals. From as far away as London, demonstrators poured in all summer to protest the presence of the Polaris subs.

Some of the nuclear disarmers tried to board the submarines by paddling out to them in kayaks. Others lay down in front of Ardnam pier in order to obstruct American seamen trying to reach their ships.

Despite the taunting, the Americans here treated the situation with good humor, looking upon the anti-bomb crowd as more weird than alarming. By refusing to allow themselves to be provoked they won the respect of the local townspeople.

As for the American reaction to Scotland, 120 men aboard the Proteus have asked permission to remain here when the Proteus returns to the States next spring. They are hoping to join the crew of the U.S.S. Hunley, which is being sent here as a replacement. There can be no better advertisement for Scotland than this.

Batterson Backs Away From New Youth Corps

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Denver Mayor Richard Batterson indicated here he did not favor continued lobbying for a National Youth Conservation Corps.

"We already have so many welfare programs," Batterson said at an executive board meeting of the American Municipal Association. "There's got to be a limit."

The bill would set up an organization designed to hire unemployed young people for building public works projects and to deter juvenile delinquency.

Mayor John Collins of Boston called the measure "strictly low priority. There's an awful lot of issues in Congress which concern me more than this," he said.

Houston Mayor Louis Cutrer, the AMA president, said "I would approach this very cautiously. I think cities should stand on their own two feet. I'm reluctant to run to Washington for grants all the time."

The mayors were scheduled to end their meeting here today after discussing legislative goals, including the Conservation Corps bill, for the AMA for next year. Final adoption of a legislative program would come at the national convention in August.

Also meeting here as board members were Jerome Cavanagh, mayor of Detroit, and Mayor Gordon Clinton of Seattle.

Florence, Canon City May Set Up Single Fund Drive

Florence and Canon City chambers of commerce are seeking to set up an organization which will conduct a county-wide single-fund drive each year and thereby eliminate the many individual drives which are handled each year by various groups in the two communities.

The plan, now under consideration by the two boards, was reviewed at length Monday night at a special meeting held by the two business groups at the Florence City hall.

Proposed by the Canon City membership following a poll taken by Secretary Manager Pauline Bryant, the Florence board is also expected to conduct a similar poll.

John Verlinga, president of the Florence Chamber of Commerce, announced that there are many wrinkles to be ironed out and many questions to be answered on the mechanics of such a program, but a poll of Florence directors indicated overwhelming approval of the idea per se.

"It looks like it may take nearly a year to get the program fully launched once a basic plan has been adopted," Verlinga noted. "We feel that Florence residents and businessmen would not mind making one major contribution in lieu of literally scores of door-to-door bids for trucks throughout the year."

Also discussed by the two boards was the possibility of setting up a joint information booth for tourists at the junction of highways 115-50, and the need to revamp and remove many of the chamber of commerce signs from the junction area and replace them at more strategic locations.

AFA Tops 1962 United Fund Goal By 10 Per Cent

Air Force Academy participation in the 1962 Pikes Peak Area United Fund Drive topped last year's contribution by almost 10 per cent.

Final tally of the Academy effort shows an increase in overall participation from 96 per cent to 99.4 per cent and a jump in dollar contributions from $9,400 to $10,300.

A total of eight Academy organizations reached the 100 per cent mark. Included were dean of faculty — with total dollar contributions of $2,802 — personnel, department of athletics, director of material, comptroller, commandant of cadets, director of security and law enforcement, and staff members.

Members of the Cadet Wing contributed twice to raise a total of $991.40.

Academy Superintendent Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren commended all personnel "for wholehearted and generous participation — which reflects our positive interest in the affairs of the community."

Joseph A. Reich, chairman of the military division of the 1962 drive, said, "Academy efforts are appreciated by every member of the campaign organization and by all those who will benefit throughout the year."

Chicago Professor To Talk to AF Cadets

Hans Kohn, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, and presently visiting professor at Denver University, will address the Air Force Academy Cadet Forum at 7:10 tonight in lecture hall D-2, Fairchild Hall.

An outstanding authority of nationalism, Prof. Kohn will speak on "Nationalism and the Lesser Developed Areas."

Following the address, Prof. Kohn will be the guest of the department of political science at a reception.

The Cadet Forum is an extracurricular activity at the Academy designed to provide a forum for cadet and guest speaker discussion of national, international, and military affairs and for cadet participation in intercollegiate student conferences.

Traffic Cases Take Bulk Of Municipal Court Time

Traffic cases took up the bulk of Municipal Court time Thursday with one defendant receiving a 60-day driving suspension in the city except for business purposes; another $15 on a speeding charge, and a third, also fined $15 on a speeding charge, upon which he intended to appeal.

Police Officer Leonard Huser testified before Municipal Court Judge Allan Asher that he stopped the car of Donald Tucker, 18, of 221 E. Dale St., and charged him with careless driving after he saw the defendant's car racing with another vehicle on the new pavement in Memorial Park.

Tucker denied the charge but Asher said that in his opinion the evidence indicated the defendant's guilt. Tucker was fined $35 which was suspended providing he does not drive his own car on the city streets for a period of 60 days.

Owen Cleveland, 25, of 3839 Merrylane, was found guilty of speeding on the testimony of Police Officer Edmund Lans who told the court he had spotted the Cleveland car sliding on a city street while rounding a corner.

Howard Arnsberg, public utilities field representative, was in charge of the group. The group included superintendents of all four divisions of his department and supervisory personnel of the general city departments.

Escorting the party were Major H. W. Wells, Capt. Cecil Holland and William P. Ellermeyer of ADC Civil Engineering.

The tour included a briefing and a one-hour walk-through inspection of the underground chamber. The party traveled by bus to Cheyenne Mountain from the ADC Civil Engineering annex at 527 S. Tejon St.

ner and also sliding in the Alpine Parking Lot near Circle Drive during a recent icy spell.

Frank G. Horne Jr., 2145 Frontier St., asked the judge where he could appeal his case after he was found guilty of speeding thru a radar-scanned area.

Horne told the court that he had the speed - minder of his car set at 37 miles per hour and that his speedometer was 10 miles in error. He also told the court that the police officer who flagged him down almost caused him to strike a vehicle which the officer signaled to pull in front of him at the time.

Asher told the defendant that radar when properly calibrated, is more accurate than either a speed - minder or a car's speedometer.

Other cases in court were: John Medina, 21, San Luis, Calif., vagrancy, case dismissed; Richard Bodhaine, 51, Ramah, drunk, case dismissed; James Penn, 31, of 109 Sumner Dr., Security, drunk, guilty but no fine imposed; Charles Diggs, 45, of 1830 N. Chestnut St., drunk, 10 days in jail.

Unusually Varied Program Presented by Symphony

By JOHN FETLER

An unusually rich and varied program was presented by the Colorado Springs Symphony Orchestra, under direction of Walter Eisenberg, Thursday night at Palmer Auditorium.

First of all there was the scintillating Figaro overture.

Secondly, there was Pianist Max Lanner, as guest soloist, in Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 3, performed with high - tension precision by orchestra and soloist.

Thirdly, there were the Fountains of Rome by Respighi, in which classical simplicity in orchestration results in a sparkling, shimmering flood of enchanting sound.

And fourthly, but not to say the least, there was the Symphony Chorus, trained by chorus director Donald Jenkins, an impressive array of singers, who combined with the orchestra, all under Eisenberg's baton, and performed the beautiful, dramatic and musically very interesting Te Deum by Verdi.

It was indeed an evening of rich and varied musical fare, and the Palmer auditorium was filled to the brim with concert goers.

As we mentioned already, Max Lanner's performance with the orchestra was high - tension precision, and it was a pleasure to hear this Beethoven work again, particularly the ever - popular third movement. As an encore, since the audience insisted on it, Max Lanner played Schumann's, and his beautiful technique, crisp and melodious, was a most gratifying example of the pianist's highly disciplined art.

The Fountains of Rome were a high note of musical pleasure for the sheer imagery which they provide, and this work was placed in a very good strategic spot as a bridge to the older, more dramatic, and yet sincere work of Verdi, in which the Symphony Chorus took its bow for the season.

The chorus, indeed, trained carefully and trained well by Colorado College's Jenkins, was a pleasure, because of the solidity of its performance. That is, we would like to call it a "working chorus," in contrast to a one-evening only chorus. The behavior of the chorus voices showed the careful coaching they had received, and the entire impression of this really magnificent Verdi work is an excellent prospect of more great orchestra - chorus performances to come. Eisenberg brought the orchestra - chorus combination to dramatic heights, and in the spots where the chorus alone sang (which Verdi uses for contrast) Eisenberg showed a firm grasp of the lyrical possibilities of such a large group of voices.

The evening was a great success, audience wise, of course, but perhaps even more important, musical - wise as an example of an expanding range of activities and performance to be developed by the Symphony Association and Eisenberg. This makes the future look promising indeed.

Stanley A. Anderson of Denver signed a complaint Thursday against Lloyd Carter, 40, of Greeley, alleging embezzlement, the sheriff's department reported.

Sheriff's Detective Franklin Ripley said Anderson is president of the Eighty Eight Cents Store Inc. and that a branch is located at 2320 E. Platte Ave. In June of this year Carter was employed as manager and in July, Anderson questioned him about a $400 shortage.

According to the report Carter admitted taking it but promised to repay the money. He quit his job in July and all efforts on behalf of Anderson to obtain restitution have failed.

Developer Plans 'Cluster' Subdivision in Springs Area

The "cluster" concept of residential subdivision development was introduced Thursday to members of the City Planning Commission.

Members of the engineering firm of Harmon, O'Donnell and Henninger of Denver presented an hour-long display of the cluster type of subdivision as it has been introduced in the Denver area and other parts of the country.

The presentation was made in a preliminary plat submitted to the Colorado Springs Planning Commission for North Gate Subdivision, a 130-acre tract north-east of the CRI&P railroad and Academy Boulevard.

The cluster type of subdivision is proposed there by developer Harry Scurr. However, many other local developers attended Thursday's special meeting. Mr. Andrews, executive vice president of the Home Builders Assn., said the cluster proposal is "of extreme importance to all developers in this area."

The theory of the cluster subdivision, according to a planning committee report, "is to produce a variety of free-form lots, taking full advantage of natural topography features, the basic concept being that the minor residential streets which provide success to the lots."

"In other words, it is a subdivision where the lots are designed and the streets result. In most cases the streets are short, very irregular and have no continuity."

The perimeter streets around each cluster serve as the major traffic arteries, and the "internal streets," many of which end in cul-de-sacs, are intended only to serve the cluster and not to provide thru-traffic.

In many subdivisions of this type the homes are turned away from the streets, fronting on a "common green" or open area, with sidewalks designed for internal use rather than following the street pattern.

In the proposed North Gate subdivision, the cluster would be serviced by Academy and Constitution Boulevards and Galley Road.

A six-acre elementary school site would be provided for school district 11, a 10.5-acre tract for possible commercial use and a 30-acre undesignated area reserved for future development adjacent to Academy Boulevard.

Police Capt. Harold Davis and Fire Chief Fred Lausch objected to the proposed design because of the difficulty of gaining quick access to homes in the area and the narrowness of the proposed residential streets.

The Planning Commission took the proposal under advisement.

Planetarium At AFA Plans Yuletide Show

A journey thru time and space to the moment of the birth of Christ is the theme of the traditional Christmas program at the Air Force Academy Planetarium.

A special, expanded schedule of demonstrations will go into effect Wednesday for the special program. The public is invited.

The performance takes viewers, thru the magic of the giant Spitz stellar projector, back 1962 years so they may see the stars as they were at the time of Christ's birth.

On the Planetarium dome, spectators see the journey of three wise men — thought actually to be astronomers — as they followed a new star which had risen in the east.

Historical facts about the stars on that momentous occasion are also shown.

Planetarium director Lt. Col. Wallace E. Moore is now assisted by two lecturers, Maj. William J. Mahon and 1st Lt. Robert E. Olson. Enlisted members of the Planetarium staff include S. Sigs. John C. Clark and Omer B. Bunch and AIC Paul W. Bannister.

Following the opening performance at 8 p.m. Dec. 3, performances will be given daily through Dec. 31 with the exception of Dec. 6, 7, 10, 11, 13, 14, and Christmas Day.

Youth Found Guilty in District Court

Morris Gene Blizzard, 18, of Ft. Carson, was found guilty in District Court Thursday of sodomy and crime against nature. The two counts each carry a possible sentence of one to eight years in the state penitentiary.

Blizzard was arrested in the Garden of the Gods area, Sept. 22, while he was in a car with another man, Unless Dean Wray, 39, of 207 S. 25th St. Wray has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity and goes before the court this morning.

Blizzard waived trial by jury and chose to be tried by the court.

Sheriff's Detective Woodrow Littrell testified that he obtained a written statement which was signed by the defendant, Sept. 22.

In moving for an acquittal counsel Robert Dunlap argued that any confession made by a prisoner was insufficient to warrant conviction without corroborating evidence. The only evidence offered had been that of Police Officer Howe, who had admitted he could not see clearly into the car, and did not observe any acts between the two men.

The motion was denied by District Judge William M. Calvert and Dec. 14 was set as the date for pre - sentence investigation.

Deputy District Attorney J. B. O'Leary represented the people.

Two carpenters working on the job stopped the bleeding and Kenney was rushed to Penrose Hospital by ambulance.

Hospital officials reported today that Kenney is in satisfactory condition.

Interest was intensified in October of that year when liberal minded and scholarly missionaries Dr. W. R. G. Meilen and Mrs. Meilen preached to the group. The Unitarian organization in the Pikes Peak area set its legal founding date in February, 1801.

The cornerstone for the present church at Dale and Tejon streets was laid July 2, 1893, by Dr. Meilen, and a Dr. Gregg, then minister of the Congregational Church where some of the earlier Unitarian meetings were held, offered the prayer.

The membership of All Souls has been instrumental in establishing the Day Nursery, Home Society, Public Library, as well as participating in city, county and educational offices.

Albert F. Brautigam, 24, of Ft. Carson, received a $15 fine and costs. Brautigam was cited by State Patrolman F. L. Henderson after he failed to yield the right of way on Colorado Highway 38.

Careless driving, Nov. 16, costs Claretta Faye Brand, 28, of 1443 N. Cooper St. $10 and costs. The violation happened on East Boulder Street and the state patrolman was Gordon Baumgardner.

Traditional Christmas Choir Concert Slated Sunday at CC

The Colorado College Choir, accompanied by a 17-piece orchestra, will sing works by Bach, Praetorius and Poulenc, for its traditional Christmas concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in Shove Chapel.

Open to the public without charge, the single - performance concert will be under the direction of Donald Jenkins, instructor in music at the independent college of arts and science.

The program will include J. S. Bach's "Cantata Number 122, Unto the World This Happy Morn," Francis Poulenc's "O Magnum Mysterium" and "Exultate Deo," followed by "Sweet Was the Song," a 17th century carol. The final work will be "Canticum Trium Puerorum" by Michael Praetorius.

The Bach cantata, to be sung in English, is a short piece written for choir and solo voices, accompanied by harpsichord and string orchestra.

Singing the Bach work will be soprano soloists Genevieve Vaughn and Rebecca Woods, alto Jean Stoenner, tenor George Garrius, and baritone Ben Lyon.

Solo instruments will be played by Anne Perry and Richard Maag. Of particular note is the baritone solo, which is a lengthy piece of unusual beauty. The work ends on a magnificent choral sung by the 116-voice choir.

The orchestra will feature three first and three second violins, two violas, two cellos, one bass violin, two trumpets, two trombones, a harpsichord and the organ.

The major work will be by Michael Praetorius, an Italian composer of the early Baroque period whose music is just now becoming widely performed in this country. The "Canticum Trium Puerorum," which the choir will perform, written in 1607, is a hymn praising the creation and harmony of the universe. This will be one of the first performances of this work in this country.

It is written for large double choir, small choir, organ, brass, and strings. The main body of the hymn is written for small choir with a refrain for the large double choir, and instruments. This pattern is repeated through seven verses each gaining in intensity until the piece ends on the great refrain with the entire ensemble at full volume. This will be the first time the choir has used a brass choir.

The choir also will sing two motets by Francis Poulenc, the 20th century French composer. These are difficult pieces of great musical intensity which contain some unusual rhythmic and choral progressions.

In contrast to the modern works, the choir also will sing "Sweet Was the Song the Virgin Sang," and old English carol.

To those who have never experienced the fun - providing yet semi - religious celebration of "Bringing in the Yule Log" it will be a revelation of what a small community can do, with hard work and a few donations, and will be an inspiring start for the Yuletide holidays.

Sheriff's Detective Woodrow Littrell testified that he obtained a written statement which was signed by the defendant, Sept. 22.

In moving for an acquittal counsel Robert Dunlap argued that any confession made by a prisoner was insufficient to warrant conviction without corroborating evidence. HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

CONTROLLING DANDRUFF

Reading about a new dandruff remedy reminded me that it is normal for dead skin cells to scale off the scalp at a rate that is hardly noticeable. We call it dandruff when flaking occurs at an abnormally rapid rate. The scales may be hard, dry, and grayish in color, or greasy and yellowish, depending upon whether the scalp is dry or oily.

The cause of dandruff is not known, although any agent that damages the scalp may produce scaling. This occurs when irritants such as certain hair dyes, rinses, and sprays are used excessively.

But many people have dandruff who never put anything on the scalp except water and a bland shampoo. These individuals usually have a low metabolism or an inherent malfunction of the glands. In others, scaling follows a severe illness or is associated with other skin conditions such as psoriasis or seborrheic dermatitis.

There is no cure for dandruff although light cases can be controlled by shampooing with a milk soap product. This is done daily when the scalp is oily and less frequently when it is dry. The objectionable white scales on the clothing will be eliminated by this measure, but the basic disorder will not.

A selenium sulfide shampoo has been used during the last decade to control flaking in a high percentage of those with seborrheic dermatitis and common dandruff. The manufacturers of this product have a new medicated formula (Iloquin) that is said to control the scaling in more than 95 per cent of 700 patients with different forms of dandruff.

The hair is washed with a good soap or detergent and rinsed. Iloquin is then applied as though it were a shampoo. The medication is allowed to remain on the scalp for 5 minutes and is rinsed two or three times. Complete removal of the product is necessary, especially if the hair is to be tinted, dyed, or given a permanent. The suspension is recommended twice weekly for two weeks and then once weekly.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Bluish On Standing

D. Z. writes: Why can't a young woman stand on her feet very long without the legs becoming blue in color?

Reply

It is normal for the legs to become slightly discolored on standing. Marked discoloration, in which the skin assumes a dusky hue, usually is associated with poor circulation. The flow of blood is so sluggish it loses its oxygen and the skin assumes the deep bluish color of venous blood that is filled with carbon dioxide.

Bloodshot Eyes

H. W. A. writes: Is there a pill that can be taken to clear up bloodshot eyes?

Reply

No — not for the ordinary type of congestion. On the other hand, if the condition is the result of glaucoma, a diuretic tablet may prove helpful. An infection may require tablets containing an antibiotic, a sulfonamide, or an adrenal hormone.

Pleural Pain

A. D. B. writes: What part of the body is affected in pleurisy?

Reply

The lower chest along the diaphragm. This unusual viral disease is contagious; pain is present for a day or two, then disappears, only to return 48 or 72 hours later.

Joe Golla Opens Furniture Store In Knob Hill

Joe Golla, formerly with Gamble Stores, has opened the Knob Hill Furniture Store at 2342 E. Highway 24, and will deal in new and used furniture and appliances.

Golla, 38, came to Colorado Springs five years ago from Belleville, Mich., and began working for Gamble Stores under Howard Breiden, store manager, as a stock boy. He later went to work for Marvin Powell at the Audubon Shopping Center store.

Golla attended school in Belleville, and served three years in the Army before being discharged in 1953. He spent three years in the service, and served as a tank driver in the 25th Division, 89th Tanks, 14th Raiders, attached to a Turkish outfit during fighting in Korea.

Golla was wounded while on reconnaissance duty in an open field at Porkchop Hill, and spent 18 months in a hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Golla live at 2508 Jay Pl. and have three children, Lisa, 6, Chris, 5, and Dinette, 2. Mrs. Golla is from Willmette, Ill., where her father is president of the Weinberg Corp., manufacturer of Oxford Clothes, and of International Designer of Men's Clothing.

No Appetite When Ill

Mrs. W. writes: Does hepatitis affect the appetite?

Reply

Yes. Fever, weakness, and yellow discoloration of the skin often accompany loss of appetite.

Sergeant Ends 21 Years of Army Service

M-Sgt. Lloyd Mays, maintenance sergeant in the 1st Battalion, 77th Armor, will close more than 21 years of Army service Friday at Ft. Carson and return home to Jasper, Alabama.

He may resume postoffice work which he entered after World War II or go into the construction field in his home state.

Mrs. Mays, their daughters, Sharon and Deborah, and his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shearer, are at the family farm on Route 5, Jasper.

He enlisted in 1940 in Alabama, served as cadre for the 2nd Armored Division at Fort Benning, Ga., and the 3rd Armored Division at Fort Polk, La., going to European combat at Omaha Beach with the 3th Armored Division.

Mays recalls near misses from German artillery on his landing craft and inland 16 days after D-Day on the Normandy coast. His unit fought through Central France to Germany where he was wounded.

Discharged in 1945, he worked in Jasper postoffice for 15 months before reentering in the Army and returning to Europe for the Italian occupation.

Home again in 1947, he helped to activate the 7th Infantry at Fort Benning moving with it to Ft. Devens, Mass.

He went into the Korean action in August, 1950, with the 7th Heavy Tank Company until the summer of 1951.

Back to Benning again he served as the 72nd Tank Battalion motor sergeant before a tour in Germany where he returned again in 1958 before coming to Ft. Carson. He has served two at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

He has earned the Bronze Star, Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman Badge. He and two brothers have spent a total of 78 years in uniform. "I have never had a delinquency report or a court martial in 21 years of service," Mays said.

Everybody Will Enjoy Our Holiday Story "Christmas on Marrow-Bone Ridge"

Danny Dugan does chores in a village of wealthy people. On his way home to his poor friends on Marrow-Bone Ridge, he finds an old discarded lantern. Danny polishes it, and — poof! — Genie Magoon, a leprechaun, appears. Magoon offers to grant Danny any wish he cares to make. From then on they work together in a story that glows with the spirit of Christmas.

NO TIME FOR ETIQUETTE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Ancient Japanese politeness collided head-on here with an American hotel's fast-closing modern elevators — and lost.

Two elderly Oriental gentlemen guests spent so much time bowing each other out first when the elevator stopped at the fifth floor that they found themselves "Carthy" whisked up to the sixth floor while they were still observing the amenities.

11 New Employees Sought for State Home for Aged

TRINIDAD (AP) — The Colorado Home for the Aged, intended to operate on a self-sustaining basis, is seeking 11 new employees and a budget of $106,341 during the fiscal period starting next July 1.

Officials of the institution made the appeal here to the legislature's Joint Budget Committee at a hearing here.

Supt. William T. McFetridge said the home's staff is undermanned and overworked. He referred to what he termed deficiencies in custodial and kitchen staffs and said many employees are being required to work overtime without pay.

"We feel that as a state-owned institution and a leader in the care for the aged, it is high time this was corrected," he said.

The proposed operating budget represents an increase of $61,748 over the present budget.

Rep. Phillip Mamm, D-Trinidad, sounded the need for an expansion of the home to accommodate additional residents.

DRAWN OWN TICKET

GLEN RIDGE, N.J. (UPI) — The Cerebral Palsy Rehabilitation Institute held a drawing for an automobile Wednesday night and a woman turned the winning ticket over to Charles McCarthy, the president of the board of trustees.

"You won't believe this," said the somewhat flustered McCarthy, "but the winner is Charles McCarthy."

McCarthy said he would sell the car and donate the proceeds to the institute.

Teleprinter Link Sought by U.S. With Moscow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is trying to establish a radio teleprinter link with its embassy in Moscow to speed private communications between the White House and the Kremlin, it was learned today.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that existing means of private communication could not have handled the Cuban crisis exchanges between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

When the chips were down, Rusk said in a television interview Wednesday night, both Kennedy and Khrushchev turned to public communication as the fastest.

But since then, it was learned, the U.S. State Department has approached several foreign governments with a request for the right to operate radio transmitters in American embassies in the capitals of those countries.

Although none of the governments have been identified officially, it was understood they include the Soviet Union as well as several in the remote reaches of Africa and Asia.

Rusk Wednesday night described the functioning of the present link to Moscow during the Cuban missiles crisis.

"There was a question of speed of communications through normal channels," the secretary said.

"The sheer physical problem of transmitting messages to people who use another language, requiring decoding and translation, with differences in office hours, in their respective capitals, did remind us all over again that immediate communication is important."

He said the "most crucial exchanges" were the public exchanges. Kennedy's letter of Oct. 27 warning Khrushchev the Soviet missiles had to be removed quickly from Cuba, and Khrushchev's reply the next morning saying he would withdraw them immediately.

These two letters, both made public immediately as they were dispatched and many hours before they reached their destinations, "unlocked the crisis," according to Rusk.

Carson Retiree To Enter Calif. Business

Sgt. I. C. James Adams, Ft. Carson draftsman, cartoonist and photo interpretation expert who retires Saturday, plans to enter business in San Gabriel, Calif. Now senior noncommissioned officer in the post intelligence section, he started cartooning as a child and developed his skill with fine drawing into Army drafting. This former instructor at the Engineer School of Drafting, Fort Belvoir, Va., has sold freelance prices on diamond rings before work to such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post and VFW. Adams came to Carson in 1961 as an instructor of map reading and took his own terms in the Army Training Center facility at Hatch's, 28 S. Tejon. Adversely group.

His Army career began at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in September, 1940. He spent the war years in Alaska and at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. After two years as a civilian at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., he returned to the Army for a tour at the Engineer Center, Fort Belvoir, where he helped develop several improvements in Army equipment. He joined the XVI Corps in Japan in 1946 and was married there in 1948. Subsequent photo interpretation assignment.

The bull was the top entry in the show of Haystack Angus Ranch of Longmont, Colo. signments took him to Fort Bragg, N. C., and Germany. Adams plans to make his retirement home at 1322 S. Air Coach Fare In Mountain Area Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal of Western Air Lines to introduce air coach travel in the Rocky Mountain area was approved this week by the Civil Aeronautics Board. The board said the proposal was a "needed service in the public interest." The board's dismissal of a complaint filed by Frontier Airlines against the proposal permits the new coach fares to go into effect Dec. 1. Western will provide coach fares 25 per cent lower than the first class rate, between many cities and towns in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana and South Dakota.

Frontier complained that the traffic in this area, much of it developed by Frontier, is too thin to support first-class and coach services. Frontier said also that a trunk airline should not be permitted to undercut the fares of a smaller, subsidized airline. Frontier complained that coach fares would reduce revenues and upset the traffic patterns of all airlines operating in the area. Statements by Great Falls, Mont., and by the Wyoming Aeronautics Commission supported the proposed coach service. The CAB said its policy is to encourage coach service as one means of developing civil aviation by placing air travel within the reach of a greater part of the traveling public. "The public in less populated cities has had limited opportunity or has not been able to avail itself of the lower fares applicable to coach service," the board said.

50th Annual Florence C of C Meeting Slated

One of the largest crowds in recent years is expected to turn out next Wednesday night to hear Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols address the 50th annual meeting of the Florence Chamber of Commerce at the Florence High school gym.

Anthony Scutti, secretary-manager of the chamber, announced this week that advanced ticket sales indicate a crowd of about 200 persons.

Five new directors will be introduced during the meeting and outgoing directors will also be recognized including Howard Gore, President John Verlingia, R. A. Lopez, Robert Deppe, and Bob Cruzen.

Directors who will serve for another year along with newly appointed board members include Gene Senatore, Lynn Wilcox, Gale Decker, and Dr. John Bugiewicz.

Voting on new directors was being concluded by a mail poll this week, Scutti announced.

An added feature to this year's chamber banquet will be the presentation of a Community Service award to a local resident. A special citation will be made at the banquet and this community service award will then become the first of an annual feature.

Next year and hereafter the award will be made on the basis of write-in votes by the public.

President Verlingia will have charge of this year's meeting, which will also include the presentation of the annual report to members.

Florence Boy Scouts to Sell Christmas Trees

As a project to help raise funds for their summer camping, Florence Boy Scouts of Troop 124 are selling Christmas trees this season, it was announced by local scouting officials.

The trees, now on sale by the youths at the Vendetti Chevrolet company used car lot in downtown Florence, are being cut by the boys and their scout leaders on private land south of Florence in the Green mountains.

Over 200 trees were cut last weekend by the youths and will be sold on a basis of 50 percent for camp funds and 50 percent for Scouting equipment.

In addition to the trees sold in the business district, Scouts will also be selling trees from the home of Scout Leader Chauncey Ferguson, 324 East Third street.

Besides selling trees cut at random, the local scouts are prepared to offer customers a "custom service," Ferguson reported.

"If the boys don't have a tree in stock to meet the homeowner's specifications, they will go out and cut one to fit the needs," he said.

Fresh trees will be cut by the Scouts until Dec. 9.

THROWS OUT CONVICTIONS — COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — The state Supreme Court Wednesday threw out the convictions of 42 Negro students for staging sit-in demonstrations at lunch counters in Sumter.

The Morris College students had been fined $100 each and sentenced to 30 days in jail for breach of the peace.

"In no instance did it appear that any of the Negroes committed any act of violence," said Associate Justice J. Woodrow Lewis in writing the high court's unanimous opinion.

Florence Slates Christmas Sales Promotion

Florence merchants are going all out this year to help trade area residents enjoy a "green Christmas" with annual "Green Back Days" slated to unload $600 free dollars during four big trade days beginning Saturday, Dec. 8.

Gene Senatore, chairman of the Florence retail merchants' committee, announced this week that 26 members of his group are going to offer FREE registration to all shoppers right up until Christmas eve.

In commenting on this year's promotion, Senatore declared it will be the biggest give-away during yule season ever undertaken by the chamber.

"We appreciate the business we have enjoyed during the year from loyal shoppers and customers," he said. "This is our way of showing our thanks to these people who have helped make Florence a better place in which to live and do business."

Senatore also indicated that the chamber will sponsor the first official visit of Santa Claus on Saturday, Dec. 8 to help kick off the Yule promotion.

Tentative plans call for Santa to make his visit Saturday afternoon when he will distribute free candy to local children in the business district.

Lighting is said to cause more fires than anything except careless use of matches, smoking and improper use of electricity.

Episcopal Chapel To Hold Feast of St. Andrew Today

The feast of St. Andrew, patron saint of St. Andrew's Episcopal Chapel in Manitou Springs, will be celebrated at 6:30 p.m. tonight with a pot-luck supper in the parish hall.

All Episcopalians in the Colorado Springs area are invited and are asked to bring a covered dish, salad or dessert.

Reports on the Every-Member Canvass, recently concluded at the Chapel's 1962 activities will be discussed. A brief entertainment is scheduled.

LAUDS BELL APPOINTMENT
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Outgoing U.S. foreign aid Director Fowler Hamilton said Wednesday that President Kennedy's appointment of Budget Director David E. Bell as his successor is "particularly gratifying."

Hamilton, who is in Paris, said in a statement issued here that "I have known Mr. Bell for some time. His knowledge of aid and dedication to the assistance program, and his competence and ability as an administrator, assure the effective operation of aid."

Add interest to dried flower arrangements by using seed pods, ferns or berries. The milkweed pod's metallic lining, the sumac's crimson berries and the fluff of a cotton pod are all interesting accents for an arrangement.

Bake Delightful Holiday Cakes and Tarts

The following recipe for Yule Date Coffee Cake is a perfect holiday delight.

Dough
1 cake compressed or 1 pkg. dry yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/4 cup milk, scalded
1/4 cup sugar

CANDIED apple slices cut in flower pattern adorn this very special Christmas dessert — Poinsettia apple cake.

Bake Special Holiday Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn. From friends in the state of Washington, famous for its apples, comes this Christmas variation of a classic recipe.

The poinsettias are made of candied apple slices cut in flower pattern.

Poinsettia Apple Cake
(8 to 10 servings)
9 medium apples
1 1/4-oz. pkg. red cinnamon candies
1/2 teaspoon red food coloring
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 cup butter
1 cup fine bread or zwieback crumbs
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Peel, quarter, core and slice apples. Make a syrup of cinnamon candies, food coloring, 1/2 cup of water and 1/2 cup sugar. Simmer 10 apple slices until Christmas red. Drain apple slices on waxed paper or aluminum foil. Cook remaining apples, sugar and water over low heat until tender. Put through food mill. Makes 1 quart applesauce.

Melt butter in heavy skillet over low heat. Combine crumbs, sugar and cinnamon; add to butter and toast lightly, stirring constantly. Pat 1-3 of crumb mixture into buttered 8-inch spring form pan, or other pan with removable bottom. Combine applesauce and orange peel; pour half into crumb-lined pan. Add another layer of crumbs; another of applesauce; top with rest of crumbs; pat down.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Cool; remove from pan. Whip cream with powdered sugar until stiff; fold in vanilla. Swirl over cake; decorate with candied apple slices in poinsettia pattern. Serve with cinnamon syrup from apple slices.

Salad greens
1 teaspoon salt
White pepper to taste
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1/2 cup salad oil
Cut avocados in half lengthwise; twist apart and remove seeds. Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Arrange slices of avocado and the orange sections on salad greens. Mix together thoroughly the remaining ingredients; pour over salad. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.
Note: If you like, you can add some or all of the juice collected while preparing the orange sections to the vinegar-oil mixture.

Plan Do-Ahead Yule Meal

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Christmas dinner should be a time of unburied cheer, even for the homemaker. Plan a meal for 5 or 10 that to a high degree can be prepared in advance.
Select a "fully cooked" ham. Be sure you see the words "fully cooked" on the label. This means you can serve the ham cold or heat it briefly for hot service.
If the ham is to be carved hot at the table, give it a quick golden glaze. About half an hour before heating time is completed, pour the drippings off the ham. Then cover meat with brown sugar. Return ham to the oven temperature is 130 degrees as indicated on a roast meat thermometer, if desired.

To heat a fully cooked ham, place it on a rack in an open shallow pan. Heat in a slow oven (325 degrees) according to the schedule or until the internal temperature is 130 degrees as indicated on a roast meat thermometer, if desired.

To glaze ham, remove it from the oven 1/2 hour before end of time indicated, pour off drippings. Cover ham with brown sugar and return to oven for remainder of the heating time.

everyone knows where the Antlers is!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
May I suggest that when housewives buy appliances, they read "Joe Blow's" instructions and guarantees?
Thank you for introducing us to "Joe Blow." He is the nice little guy who writes the instructions, etc.

Warranties and guarantees vary. Read the warranty not just once, but twice before purchasing an item. This usually comes from the manufacturer himself. One might get a 90 day guarantee but the warranty might last up to five years!

When buying a refrigerator or an air conditioner, ask for a warranty. Most manufacturers give this freely.

This may not sound like good advice but it really is. That housewife (four and one-half years from now) might have her refrigerator go on the "konk." When she has to pay money out of her budget to have a new sealed refrigerator unit put in, she will see that it pays to read her warranties.

My husband was in this business 32 years. Now that he is retired I can reveal this. Glad he has no competition today.

Dear Heloise:
Can anyone tell us how to remove ballpoint pen ink from a leather purse? I am at my wit's end.

Annex
Has anyone ever been able to remove ballpoint pen ink from a genuine leather purse? Or better yet, from certain types of plastic? We would be ever so grateful if you would take the time to let us a note to let us know how you did it.

Letters do not have to be signed to appear in this column. Send your letters, trials and tribulations to Heloise in care of this paper.

Dear Heloise:

We bought a sectional sofa with square legs and then found that the sections separated at odd moments (such as when an unwary guest sat on the crack between the sections).

Rubber caps did not fit under the square legs. Then my husband's mother suggested small squares of foam rubber the size of the legs themselves. Result? No more "wiggles" and separations, and best of all the foam rubber doesn't even show.

A bad trump break produces an unnerving effect on a great many declarers. South reduced a lay-down game contract to eight tricks in today's hand—all because the adverse trumps responded in an uncharitable manner.

North and South could have taken 11 tricks at a notrump contract, but the hands were constructed in such a manner that it was perfectly natural to glide into four hearts.

When West opened the ten of spades and the dummy was spread, it appeared to declarer that he was in a very comfortable position. He played a low spade from the North hand and East won the trick with the queen. A switch was made to the jack of clubs and South put up the ace.

A low trump was led to the jack and, when East showed out,

Low Bid Submitted for Elementary School

LOVELAND (AP) — The Faith Construction Co. of Longmont submitted a bid of $348,037 here and is the apparent low bidder for building a new elementary school in District R2J at Berthoud.

There were seven bidders and all went below the estimated cost of $375,000.

The school will be part of an estimated $3 million expansion program in the school district.

To shorten my slips which are too long, I sew a tuck on the right side of the slip just above the trim at the hem.

Too, when longer dresses do come back into style all one has to do is rip this little row of stitching and the slip will be lengthened again.

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint I have used for years:

Take three plastic bags—even those with the round holes in them—and put them in your sewing machine drawer.

Put all the bias tape in one, seam binding in one, and elastic in another. It really helps to keep things orderly.

DATE-LONG THEFTS

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Two love-sick teen-agers who stole automobiles to keep their girl friends were caught by police — in a stolen car.

The two had turned up for their first date in a stolen gray foreign car which, they said, belonged to the father of one of them. This meant that for every subsequent date they had to arrive in the same make and color of car, which they stole and then carefully always replaced after use.

Police were waiting for them when they brought back one of the cars after a drive with the girls.

Be on time for that luncheon appointment.

CUPID SHOOTS FAST

NEW YORK (AP)—Cupid's arrows have been flying fast in the United States, but his marksmanship is off considerably in Canada, say insurance company statisticians.

About 1,549,000 couples were married in the U.S. in 1961, a slight increase over 1960. Marriages decreased to the lowest level in 10 years in Canada, with only 128,475 couples marrying to the altar.

Among the states, Alaska led with a 12 per cent increase in the number of marriages, followed by Idaho, North Dakota and Delaware. Fifteen states reported decreases in the number of marriages of less than 5 per cent, but Iowa had a decrease of 11 per cent, attributed to new legislation establishing a three-day waiting period and raising the minimum age for marriage.

Members are urged to attend, and to note the change in time of the meeting.

Eat Nutritious Peanut Butter

Q—My children eat lots of peanut butter. However, a decrease in use of salt often results in a loss of body weight, but only because less water will be retained in the body tissues. But that has nothing to do with losing body fat.

A—Yes. Peanut butter is highly nutritious. The U.S. Department of Agriculture in its analysis of 751 commonly consumed foods ranks peanut butter near the top of all foods in at least six nutritional categories: food energy, fats necessary to maintain body balance, phosphorus, thiamine, niacin and especially protein. It is over 26 per cent protein.

Q—Will a low-salt diet help me lose weight?

A—No. There are no calories in

The Mature Parent

Parent Must Admit Anger

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)
John had climbed up on the front porch railing and was trying to walk along it when his mother discovered him. She punished him by sending him to his room until lunch. But though she called him to lunch, ostensibly ending the punishment, it was not really ended. She was so annoyed by the fright his rail-walking had given her that she served him his sandwich without speaking to him. And when he asked for fruit juice instead of milk, she snapped, "It's all gone! You just finish your milk and get out of this kitchen so I can get on with my work."

When we refuse to take this responsibility, the child can only assume that his offense is so awful that we will never forget or forgive him. And in him will grow the conviction that all the mistakes he makes mean unending resentment in the people he offends.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

You Both Need Help

DEAR ABBY: I have been going on how to kiss is too young with this man (he is 26 and I am 22) for about a year. We love each other very much and have spoken of marriage. He has a terrible temper and when he gets provoked he hits me. He has blackened my eyes and left bruises on me several times. Afterwards he begs me to forgive him and promises he'll never do it again, but he always does. The last time he hit me he cracked two ribs and loosened three teeth. I broke up with him and haven't seen him in two weeks. I now find that my love for him is even greater than before and I want to go back to him, but don't know if I should. Can you help me? —
NO GREATER LOVE

DEAR NO: Any man who would repeatedly strike a woman is sick. And any woman whose love is "greater than before" after such abuse is sicker than he is. If you go back to him, you should use the rocks in your head to fill up the holes in his!

DEAR ABBY: I once read that Russians think we worship dogs. "Lies," I cried. Then I looked into the facts. I learned that more is spent each year on dog and cat food than on baby food. That there are beauty parlors for dogs (at $10 a visit), mink coats for dogs and jeweled collars and leashes that cost thousands of dollars! Dogs (and cats) have been named sole heirs to fortunes. And, Abby, there are even psychologists for dogs! I think dogs make charming pets, but when there are so many under-nourished and unloved children in the world, they should come first. —
MOTHER OF TEN

DEAR MOTHER: Considering the millions of dog-owners in the country, you are focusing far too much attention on the few oddballs who lavish thousands of dollars on jeweled collars, mink coats and leave their fortunes to their dogs. Dogs protect the blind, hunt down criminals, protect homes and provide companionship for many, so don't waste your energy worrying about what the Russians think.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to kiss a boy. I am going to a party the first of December and will need the information by then. I thank you. —

Eight of the nine Pikes Peak teams kick off the season with non-league games in preparation for PPL competition to begin Jan. 4. Coslett is one of three returning lettermen to grace the Spartan court this season along with Dean Champin (6-1) and David Lantz.

AAU-NCAA Resume Struggle With New War of Words

By JERRY GREEN
TROT (AP)—The seeming truce between the AAU and A for track control in the United States had boiled over into a war of words today—two days after it seemed peace was sight.

The NCAA, through its coaches in the U.S. Track and Field Association, charged the AAU with reneging on an agreement in New York Nov. 13. The AAU replied there was a misunderstanding on details in the agreement.

The federation's charges came yesterday night, hours after the AAU's 35-man executive committee unanimously endorsed a track field coalition which was announced at the New York meeting. That meeting, called by General Robert F. Kennedy, was designed to end the 24-year squabble and help toward forming a strong U.S. team for the Olympics.

The coaches agree with the AAU's position. At issue is what the coalition will do, particularly in international track competition.

The AAU insists it will continue to control U.S. participation in international meets. The NCAA argues the coalition—made up of several groups including the two warring bodies—eventually should have international control.

Soon after the endorsement, federation leaders held an urgent telephone pow-wow and agreed the AAU plan was unsatisfactory.

Sitting in on the conference phone call were Bill Russell, federation president and a district director of athletics in California; Chick Werner, Penn State coach and a federation executive director; and Don Canham, Michigan coach and a federation executive vice president.

Canham said the New York agreement stated in one of its points:

"In 1964, the new coalition would seek with the AAU's blessing to have the International Amateur Athletic Federation recognize the new coalition as the governing body of track and field in the U.S."

The IAAF, world governing body for track, currently recognizes the AAU.

The AAU's executive committee voted to disapprove any suggestions "at this time" that would make the coalition the U.S. governing body to the IAAF.

The AAU admitted, however, if all parties involved in the coalition agreed, it is possible the coalition may be able to become the U.S. governing body after 1964.

Trojans to Tackle Irish With Top Rating at Stake

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California, attempting to nail down the national championship for the West Coast for the first time since 1939, goes expected to announce acceptance of bids to the Sugar and Orange Bowls, respectively, immediately after their games, which would complete the line-up for the major post-season classics.

The program also includes such tidbits as the colorful, traditional Army-Navy clash in Philadelphia and closing action for national powers Mississippi, Alabama and Oklahoma.

Mississippi and Alabama are expected to announce acceptance of bids to the Sugar and Orange Bowls, respectively, immediately after their games, which would complete the line-up for the major post-season classics.

Southern Cal already has secured the Rose Bowl berth opposite Wisconsin, but must get past the Fighting Irish to complete an unblemished season and retain solid control of the No. 1 spot in the nation.

ALL NEW — Albion college begins a new basketball season with a new coach and six new cheerleaders. Cheerleaders, clockwise beginning at 6 o'clock, Holly Burnette, Hartford, Mich.; Martha Wilson, Grand Blanc, Mich.; Maggi Williams, Saginaw, Mich.; Jill Oswald, Barrington, Ill.; Jill Anderson, Owosso, Mich.; and Connie Hayward, Schoolcraft, Mich., will lend vocal support to Coach Dean Dooley's Briton Cagers.

Top College Basketball Begins Season Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The new major college basketball season opens tonight, with some of the regular powers of the sport involved in the handful of games.

The schedule remains a handful only for 24 hours Saturday night, the collegians are at it in force, topped by the new season's debut of Cincinnati's two-time defending NCAA champions.

Illinois, expected to be among the national as well as Big Ten leaders, is host to Butler, Rice, Crystal City, Mo., who is considered one of the brightest prospects in the college game in several years.

Ohio State, ranked No. 1 nationally the last two years although beaten both times by Cincinnati in the NCAA final, tries its hand at the Cincinnati Bearcats, with their starting five back Jerry Lucas, Big Luke has again, open at home Saturday against DePaul Saturday's whop and Mel Nowell, the other two ping schedule also includes such important tests as Purdue at Pitt, triggered the Buckeye team the Virginia Tech at Kentucky, Da-

Should the Trojans falter—and they're one of the very, very few teams in the country to escape upset this season—it could seriously jeopardize their bid for the national title, which will be decided in next week's poll.

Wisconsin, the No. 2 team in the nation and the Big Ten champ, scored a 17-4 triumph over Notre Dame and the comparison with the Southern California result is inevitable. Wisconsin closed its season last week.

The Trojans rule a one-touchdown favorite to turn back the Irish, but a form reversal is a decided possibility.

Coach Joe Kuharich's lads from South Bend have stormed to four straight victories after a shaky start. They've piled up 119 points in rolling over Navy, Pitt, North Carolina and Iowa and have history in their favor. Notre Dame holds a 22-9-2 edge in the old series.

Southern Cal, winner of nine straight, is seeking its first unbeaten season in 30 years and the first national title for the West Coast since the Trojans won it 23 years ago.

A crowd of about 85,000 is expected for the game in Los Angeles, while about 100,000 including President Kennedy are expected for the service classic in Philadelphia Stadium. The game also will get national television coverage (CBS, 1:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time).

It's strictly a pick'em affair between the Cadets and the Midies, with President Kennedy expected to break tradition and go to midfield for the pre-game counting.

Titles and bowl bids don't enter the picture for the colorful clash but Army pride does. Coach Paul Dietzel, hired this season to break Navy's string of three straight, has used his three-platoon magic to forge a 6-3 regular season record. Navy, seeking a record fourth straight over Army, is 4-5.

Mississippi, ranked third in the nation, is a solid favorite to close out an unbeaten, untied season against Mississippi State, Alabama, No. 5 with an 8-1 record, also is favored over a tough Auburn team.

Oklahoma, No. 8, already has the Orange Bowl spot and the Big Eight title and has little but prestige at stake against Oklahoma State.

Scouts from both the Gator and Gotham Bowls are expected to scout the Florida-Miami night game, while Texas Christian still has some bowl hopes going into its game with Southern Methodist, in the Northern South Dakota State (10-0) and Lenoir Rhyne (9-0) play Martial. Her dam was So Chic.

Florida A&M Rated Small School Champion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jake Gaither's Florida A&M Rattlers are the national small college football champions today and the coach credits it all to "the burning desire to win."

Also to a couple of halfbacks who can run the 100 in under 9.5—Robert (China Doll) Paramore and Bob Hayes, who happens to share the world 100-yard record of 9.2 seconds.

The all-conquering Rattlers, who'll play Jackson, Miss., College in the Orange Blossom Classic here Dec. 8, posted a 9-0 regular season record this year, pushing their winning streak to 21 games.

They won their just reward today when The Associated Press' panel of eight sports writers named them No. 1 in the final small college poll of the season. The Rattlers finished just one scant point ahead of Wittenberg, Ohio, with another unbeaten team. Central Oklahoma, third Southern Mississippi, Lenoir Rhyne, Texas A&I, Northern Illinois, Fresno State, St. John's, Minn., and Southeast Louisiana rounded out the final Top Ten.

Denver Fighters Lose Decisions

OMAHA (AP)—Two Denver fighters, Rich Moca, and H. C. Massey, lost six round decisions in preliminaries Thursday night of the Tony Hughes-Bill Nielsen heavyweight bout.

Mora, 131, was defeated by Boots Washington, 132, Omaha Art Hernandez, 150, Omaha, won from Massey, 145.

Hughes, 209, Cleveland, won a split decision from Nielsen, 196, Omaha, in their 10-round match. Hughes, a protégé of Rocky Marciano, has a 23-2 record. It was Nielsen's second loss in 19 fights.

Kansas State Quintet Has Tough Opening Set

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Tex Winter's Kansas State Wildcats, with a two-game Big Ten invasion at Michigan State Saturday night and at Minnesota Monday, have the toughest opening assignment of any Big Eight Conference basketball team.

The Big Eight should get four victories or more on Saturday's opening six-game card, however. A sweep is a good possibility.

Nebraska may have trouble at Texas Tech, although Tech has lost four starters from a team which tied for the Southwest Conference championship last season. The Cornhuskers go on to play a good Houston team Monday.

In the other Saturday games Big Eight teams are strongly favored. Hardin-Simmons plays at Oklahoma State, Montana State U. at Kansas, Missouri at Washington of St. Louis and South Dakota at Iowa State.

The Big Eight figures to come back with another big season against outside teams this season. The conference won 46 and lost 44 last season but this was its worst interconference record in a long time.

Players Reluctantly Agree To One Annual All-Star Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The major league will return to one All-Star game in 1963. The game will be played on Tuesday, July 9, in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The players, through their representatives, reluctantly agreed Thursday to drop the second All-Star game, at the request of the owners, who compromised by agreeing to relinquish all claim to All-Star receipts.

The players previously had received 60 per cent of the receipts, amounting to approximately $300,000. The other $200,000 went to the owners, who used the money, except for the commissioner's 5 per cent, to aid the minors.

As a result of the compromise, the players will receive 95 per cent of the one game. The other 5 per cent goes to the commissioner's office for All-Star game expenses.

"We didn't want to buck the press and the public by pushing the second All-Star game down their throats any longer," said Bob Friend, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League player representative.

"We wanted the second All-Star game originally only to meet our pension fund payments, and now that we're able to meet the obligations another way, we are perfectly happy with the compromise."

Terms for the settlement were originally proposed by Commissioner Ford Frick, who was stoutly supported by Dan Topping, president of the New York Yankees.

Judge Robert Cannon, legal advisor of the players, who sat in on the meeting between the 20 player representatives and 20 club owners, said the players were very pleased with the new arrangement.

The two-All-Star game setup has been in existence four years. The National League squad won both games in 1959. There were splits in 1960 and 1962. The National won one game in 1961 with the other ending in a tie. The American holds an overall lead of 17-15 since the mid-summer meetings began in 1933.

The players and owners also agreed to a change in the proportioning of the World Series money, adding the fifth place teams to the spoils. Each fifth place team, starting in 1963, will get 2 per cent of the World Series player pool.

It would amount to approximately $300 per player on the fifth place teams, but as Bob Turley, of the Los Angeles Angels, the AL representative put it: "It's not the money involved; it's to make fifth place mean something, and give the players an incentive."

The owners acceded to a number of minor demands by the players but rejected their request to increase the minimum salary from $7,000 to $7,500.

Sandwiches Permitted In Movie Theater

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Moviegoers now have official judicial permission to take those 18-inch submarine sandwiches (heroes) with them while they watch motion pictures.

City Judge Joseph P. Kuszynski recently upheld that right when he dismissed a disorderly conduct charge against Louis Credendino, 36, who was arrested in the Paramount Theatre here after refusing to leave with his submarine sandwich.

"Some people like to eat popcorn and some people like to eat candy. Most people like to eat even when watching television at home," the judge observed in dismissing the case.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Schellenberg had a pleasant surprise on Monday morning, Nov. 26 to have a call from their daughter, Mrs. Louis J. Roehr, of West Barrington, R. I., to tell them that her daughter, Mrs. Tom Sweeney and her husband were parents of a girl, the first great grandchild of the Schellenbergs. Very recently, Schellenberg, himself returned from a stay in Memorial Hospital. The Schellenbergs moved into their home at 16 Swope on Oct. 31, after selling the house on Iowa, where they had lived for many years.

Artificial Glass Sky Will Help Architects

LONDON (AP) — A British glass firm has developed an artificial sky that will help architects calculate daylight conditions in factories, offices and homes.

The sky effect is reproduced in a hemisphere 22 feet in diameter by banks of fluorescent tubes and a mercury vapor plant on the floor.

The structure can reproduce either a tropical sky of uniform brightness or the cloudy, overcast sky usually found in Britain. The firm soon hopes to add an artificial sun.

Designers will be able to work out the shape and position of windows and the height and depth of rooms using scale models fitted with photoelectric cells.

Eventually, it is hoped the model will become sophisticated enough to undertake experimental mixing of daylight with artificial light in building interiors.

STRENGTH, PERMANENCE

LUTON, England (AP) — The Church of St. Francis in this Bedfordshire village probably has the distinction of having the first astronaut in a religious mural.

The 700 square foot mural, entitled "To The End of Time," is behind the church altar. Its artist, Mary Aidshead, says she included the figure of an astronaut to show the strength and permanence of the Christian religion from its beginning to the present day.

NEW STYLE JUKE BOX

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Seeburg Corp., the country's largest producer of coin-operated phonographs, has introduced a new juke box, different in style and dimensions from its flashy predecessor.

The company feels that the new "quiet" version will be more acceptable to resorts, cocktail lounges, motels, country clubs, cruise ships and similar establishments.

More than 72,388,000 persons visited the 29 national parks and 162 other areas administered by the U.S. National Park Service in 1960.

Highway Travel Boom Seen in Four Corners

DENVER (AP) — A highway travel boom is developing in southern Colorado as the result of completion of the new highway into the Navajo Indian Reservation at Four Corners and is expected to spread.

The Colorado Highway Commission learned about it from various county delegations during three days of hearings on road-building requests.

Montezuma County, where the road to Four Corners takes off from U.S. Highway 666, pointed up the situation. City Manager D. C. Hickman of Ouray asked the commission to make U.S. Highway 160 a four-lane highway at the east city limits to handle increased traffic.

A member of the delegation, Dr. Redd Ert of Mancos, said traffic definitely is heavier through his community.

Las Animas County—while off the Navajo Trail—pointed up increasing tourist travel in southern Colorado as the basis for its principal request—building and paving all of State Highway 111 through Cucharas to Monument Lake. Huerfano County previously asked quick construction. Commissioner Fred E. Gonzales presented the county's request. Trinidad City Manager Ben Veltri called for rebuilding the city's main street, part of old U.S. Highway 85-87. He said heavy traffic on the road in past years had resulted in considerable damage.

State Rep. Elizabeth Pellet, D-Rico, said tourist traffic already is showing an increase on State Highway 145 the road to Lizard Head Pass—since opening of the new road.

The new cutoff through the Navajo Country cuts the distance from Cortez to Flagstaff, Ariz. The commission was told much of the increase in traffic is in trucks.

Chief Announces Changes In Police Assignments

Several change of assignments in the Colorado Springs police department were announced Thursday by Chief Cecil J. McKissick, police chief.

These changes will all become effective with the shift change Dec. 3 and have been necessitated by recent promotions.

Harold L. "Red" Davis, the new captain, will be moved from administration to become captain in charge of the uniform division.

A job held for nearly three years by Capt. Carl E. Petry, who was placed in charge of the plain clothes division of the detective bureau, a post held for the past four years by Capt. Joseph O'Donnell.

O'Donnell will be utilized in the important relief capacity job, relieving captain and Assistant Chief Oren E. Boling when those officers have off-duty time.

The chief emphasized that these changes "go along with our training program of rotating jobs so that everyone can become familiar with most of the department positions."

L. C. "Red" Heinz, who has won a promotion to lieutenant, will be moved from the detective bureau to the patrol division as a shift commander.

Lt. William Majors, who has been serving as a shift commander in the patrol division, will be moved to head the traffic bureau, a job now held by Lt. Jess Spears, who will be reassigned to take over Davis' former job in administration.

Charles Jensen, who has been promoted to sergeant, will remain in the detective bureau in the sergeant's capacity now held by Heinz.

Richard M. Smith, the new corporal, will move from the detective bureau to the identifications and records bureau. He will fill the job vacated by Jensen.

James Caldwell will be moved into the detective bureau as a patrolman in plain clothes to fill the gap left by the promotion of Smith.

Dean Reid, who is a former coach and athletic director at Colorado College, has been the college dean of men since 1945. From 1948 to January, 1957, Dean Reid also served concurrently as director of athletics and dean of men. He was relieved of athletic director responsibilities in 1957 to devote his full time to the dean's position.

Born in Jackson, Mo., Dean Reid holds a BA degree earned at Colorado College in 1932, and an MA degree from Colorado College in 1937.

Gen. Maxwell Taylor Seen As Strong Military Hand

By COL. RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When Gen. Maxwell Taylor was at the White House as military adviser to President Kennedy he had lunch daily at precisely 12.

An aide would have an enlisted man waiting outside the general's office, with lunch on a tray, watching a clock. When the clock's second hand hit 12, the aide would swing his arm down and the enlisted man would move through the door with Metrecal and a salad.

This story, says a White House source, illustrates three of the principles by which the new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff lives: intense self-discipline, detailed planning, timed action.

A fourth major principle, stubborn determination, is illustrated by the comment of a former member of the Joint Chiefs:

"You could talk to him and talk to him and think you'd brought him around. The next day you'd find you'd gotten nowhere."

The 61-year-old Taylor carries these principles into the smallest details of his life.

As a high school student he regularly studied a Spanish dictionary while putting on his collar and tie in the morning. He exercises every day, war, crisis or peace.

On the Korean front, he insisted that before every patrol forward of the lines, there had to be a full-dress, detailed dry run. If anything was burned by fire at the front through carelessness, he asked for reports so voluminous that the culprits never became careless again.

While a captain and language student in Tokyo in the 1930s, Taylor was noted for searching the side streets for Japanese ideographs even his native language teacher could not read.

These same four principles guide Max Taylor's military planning for Cuba, Berlin, Viet Nam and other Cold War hotspots.

Taylor believes:

1. Any suggestion of U.S. weakness or indecision may encourage the Reds to gamble.

2. Soviet Premier Khrushchev must be convinced we have the will and determination to retaliate without compunction. We must therefore react to each Red-caused crisis in ways that will reinforce Khrushchev's certainty of our determination to hold firm, or fight if necessary whatever the cost in lives.

3. This convincing of the Russians must include strong anti-missile defense and a radiation shelter program plus strong conventional and nuclear power.

4. Once Khrushchev gets the concept of U.S. determination, there will be less likelihood of general nuclear war. But there may be, nevertheless, a long succession of limited wars.

Taylor favors waiting for a chance at the Cuba-type of action, where you have everything ready, timed to the last detail. When the aggressor makes a move, you present him with an overwhelming conventional superiority on the spot and nuclear strength in reserve. You may stop him without a fight.

To be able to take this quick action before the enemy gets too far with his aggression, you must make detailed studies in advance of what he has the power to do, then develop superior weapons and equipment for quick counter action in each case. Taylor will drive for increased mobility of men and weapons, including missiles.

To get the precise information he needs for the best weapons and tactics for fighting guerrilla war, Taylor is testing weapons and equipment in South Viet Nam. He has teams out with the guerrilla fighters evaluating the relative effectiveness of the Communist and U.S. arms, equipment and maneuvers.

Taylor has similar teams out evaluating new weapons for conventional wars in simulated maneuvers against U.S. forces using Soviet organization and tactics.

Berlin, Cuba, India, South India, China, Quemoy, Matsu, Western Europe or a Latin American country are different. Each may require a different mix of weapons. Taylor wants more research to produce the best weapons and tactics for each type of trouble spot. He worries that the U.S. hasn't made the breakthroughs in conventional weapons that we've made in nuclear weapons.

Taylor holds the U.S. must be controlled about when we use our nuclear weapons. He thinks we may find that in practice there are not many situations in which they will be feasible.

When quick action is in Cuba isn't the answer, we must be prepared, as in South Viet Nam, to spend years in touch-and-go seemingly futile, guerrilla war.

Taylor holds the U.S. must discipline itself for a long period of stopping the Communists wherever they make their aggressive military moves. He thinks that stepping in and holding down little wars will help prevent thermonuclear war.

marine warfare. Whenever he can, the lieutenant writes a piece in one magazine or another, pushing his ideas. Out of the blue, some months ago, he received a personal letter from Taylor, then at the White House, encouraging him to keep up his battle.

Taylor has a reputation for unerring judgment in picking top flight men. White House sources say his analysis is "uncanny."

The brilliant new Army Chief of Staff, Gen. Earle Wheeler, is a Taylor protégé. Chief of Naval Operations George Anderson is a good friend from other days.

Taylor will be a strong chief of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He sees the job that way. A majority of the service chiefs want this stronger hand at the top, but they do not want one that will thrust them aside.

Despite the Pentagon worries and what he has written in the past about the merits of a single chief of staff, Taylor's friends say there is little likelihood he will downgrade the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

They say Taylor needs the individual service chiefs. He believes strongly in professionals, wants a clear open path for military opinions to come up to him from below. A strong Joint Chiefs of Staff is the only way he can protect that military channel. Otherwise, his friends say, the military voice might be drowned along the way by low ranking civilians in the Department of Defense.

'Old Shell' Proves

To Be Dangerous Toy

GUNNISON (AP) — "Say, we have one at home just like that," said a boy in a junior high school class.

He and his schoolmates had been watching an ordnance team from Ft. Carson give a demonstration of explosives with the use of defused grenades, shells and other weapons.

The Army men told the boy they'd like to see what he had at home. He took them to the house and showed them a live 20-millimeter artillery shell, complete with explosive head, brought home as a war souvenir.

The Ft. Carson men said the shell could easily have exploded under certain conditions. They removed the explosive.

WHO NEEDS ENEMIES?

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A zoo visitor who "believed the tiger liked him" and tried to pet it found out that the animal did like one part of him at least — his finger.

The big cat bit off the tip of Harry R. Spruell's index finger when he reached through the bars to stroke the animal.
